Biblical Theology of Life in the Old Testament 2021-11-30 the question of the extent to which the septuagint reflects an evolution in messianic belief in comparison with the masoretic text has come into prominence in recent years and in view of the role played by messianism in jewish belief of the late second temple period and in early christianity it seemed very appropriate that the septuagint and messianism should be chosen as the theme of the 2004 colloquium biblicum lovaniense this volume contains the papers given at the colloquium which are concerned both with methodological issues and with the interpretation of specific texts in practice the majority of the texts in the septuagint for which a messianic interpretation has been claimed the papers are very far from all reflecting the same approach and it has frequently happened that the same texts have been treated by different contributors from very different viewpoints but the fact such different viewpoints are expressed is a proper reflection of the complexity of the issues involved in the question of the extent of messianic belief in the septuagint and of the fact that the question requires a nuanced answer it is in any case hoped that the varied approaches reflected in the papers will serve to make clear the underlying reasons for the differences between those who take a minimalist and those who take a maximalist view on the subject of the septuagint and messianism
