gundamentalism and where it is taking america is the work of james atwood a retired presbyterian pastor and an avid deer hunter for half a century who has also been in the forefront of the faith community's fight for two constitutional rights: the right to keep and bear arms and the right to live in domestic tranquility free of gun violence. He explains why guns mystically control so many Americans and exposes the fallacies of the gun industry's spurious claim that firearms actually protect us. He argues there are no bona fide scientific studies that show defensive guns save us from harm while there is voluminous research showing a defensive gun puts the owner and his or her family at greater risk. Atwood's book, which details his learning of a lifetime in the struggle for reasonable gun laws in America, puts dependable social and theological analysis of our unique national epidemic into your hands along with scientific data that will provoke honest reflection and discussion for the building of a safer and saner America. Questions for group discussion and suggestions for action are included.

A Commentary on the Holy Scriptures: Critical, Doctrinal, and Homiletical

The spirit of our times can appear to be one of joyless urgency as a culture we have become less interested in the exploration of the glorious mind and more interested in creating and mastering technologies that will yield material well-being but while cultural pessimism is always fashionable there is still much to give us hope in the givenness of things. The incomparable Marilynne Robinson delivers an impassioned critique of our contemporary society while arguing that reverence must be given to who we are and what we are: creatures of singular interest and value despite our errors and depredations. Robinson has plumbed the depths of the human spirit in her novels including the National Book Critics Circle Award-winning Lila and the Pulitzer Prize-winning Gilead and in her new essay collection she trains her incisive mind on our modern predicament and the mysteries of faith. These seventeen essays examine the ideas that have inspired and provoked one of our finest writers throughout her life whether she is investigating how the work of the great thinkers of the past—Calvin Locke, Bonhoeffer, and Shakespeare—can infuse our lives or calling attention to the rise of the self-declared elite in American religious and political life. Robinson's peerless prose and boundless humanity are on display; exquisite and bold, the givenness of things is a necessary call for us to find wisdom and guidance in our cultural heritage and to offer grace to one another.

The Israelite Samaritan Version of the Torah

An introduction to ancient myths and the critical discussions that surround them, this book dives into the stories of pre-modern culture, taking a comparative look at how they have shaped the West and modern storytelling as we have come to understand it today. It makes texts and scholarship from Near Eastern, classical, and Celtic disciplines engaging and accessible and traces narrative meaning through stories from ancient Mesopotamia to the British Medieval period, offering compelling pathways into such writings as the Epic of Gilgamesh, Genesis, and Job, the Odyssey, the Mabinogi, the life of St. Cadoc, and Sir Orfeo. Looking at each in detail, myths and ancient stories also explore myth through a modern lens, probing at how in this scientific age it continues to inspire contemporary film, games, and literary works such as those by Margaret Atwood, Colm Tóibín, Madeleine Miller, and Pat Barker. Impressive in breadth and bringing together a wide range of foundational texts from diverse traditions for the first time, this work is the ideal orientation to the ancient works central to English literary culture, shedding light on the mythological roots of storytelling and narrative.
