encompassing afghanistan central and south asia and west asia over some 2 500 years this is the first comprehensive study in any language published on the millennia long competition for domination and influence in one of the key regions of the eurAsian continent jalali s work covers some of the most important events and figures in world military history including the armies commanded by cyrus the great alexander the great the muslim conquerors chinggis khan tamerlane and babur afghanistan was the site of their campaigns and the numerous military conquests that facilitated exchange of military culture and technology that influenced military developments far beyond the region an enduring theme throughout afghanistan is the strong influence of the geography and the often extreme nature of the local terrain invaders mostly failed because the locals outmaneuvered them in an unforgiving environment important segments include alexander the great remembered to this day as a great victor though not a grand builder the rise of islam in the early seventh century in the arabian peninsula and the monumental and enduring shift in the social and political map of the world brought by its conquering armies the medieval islamic era when the constant rise and fall of ruling dynasties and the prevalence of an unstable security environment reinforced localism in political social and military life the centuries long impact of the destruction caused by chinggis khan s thirteenth century early eighteenth century when the afghans achieved a remarkable military victory with extremely limited means leading to the downfall of the persian safavid dynasty and the battle of panipat 1761 where afghan emperor ahmad shah abdali decisively routed the hindu confederacy under maratha leadership widely considered as one of the decisive battles of the world it was in this period when the afghans founded their modern state and a vast empire under ahmad shah durrani which shaped the environment for the arrival of the european powers and the great game lakshadweep a group of coral islands in the arabian sea off the malabar coast is a centrally administered territory consisting of three distinct units laccadive minicoy and amindivi amini is the largest island of the amindivi unit the islanders have three caste like groups the aristocratic koya the sea faring malmi and the praedial slaves melacheri consisting of the descendants of migrants from the mainland this island society exhibits a unique blend of matrilineal principles and islamic regulations this can be seen in their institutions of taravad karanavan and duo local marriage on the one hand and in the observance of islamic prescriptions in regard to the performance of duties by fathers and husbands on occasions like birth circumcisions marriage and divorce and in the operation of the laws of property and inheritance on the other the historical and socio economic processes through which their social structure evolved the constraints under which it functions today the struggle of the melacheri to shake off the yoke of the koya the role of islam and the impact of government sponsored programmes form the subject matter of this fascinating study a part from describing an unusual form of social organization this book presents a significant microscopic picture of the processes of change in the island society from british india because militarily afghan defenders were successful in keeping out british imperial invaders however despite these military victories colonial influences still made their way into afghanistan looking closely at commerce in and between kabul peshawar and qandahar this book reveals how local afghan nomads and indian bankers responded to state policies on trade british colonial political emphasis on kabul had significant commercial consequences both for the city itself and for the cities it displaced to become the capital of the emerging afghan state focused on routing between three key markets connecting histories in afghanistan challenges the overtly political tone and orientalist bias that characterize classic colonialism and much contemporary discussion of afghanistan most contemporary journalistic and scholarly accounts of the instability gripping afghanistan and pakistan have argued that violent islamic extremism including support for the taliban and related groups is either rooted in pashtun history and culture or finds willing hosts among their communities on both sides of the afghanistan pakistan border abubakar siddique sets out to demonstrate that the failure or even unwillingness of both afghanistan and pakistan to absorb the pashtuns into their state structures and to incorporate them into the economic and political fabric is central to these dynamics and a critical failure of nation and state building in both states in his book he argues that religious extremism is the product of these critical failures and that responsibility for the situation lies to some degree with the elites of both countries partly an eye witness account and partly meticulously researched scholarship the pashtun question describes a people whose destiny will shape the future of pakistan and afghanistan reflections from the holy qur an there are 89 verses in the holy qur an that have o believers or begin with this remark and this book will take you through each verse its revelation and its understanding the book reflects on why allah swt revealed such verses and what he wants from us after all the address is to all believers and not muslims those who have brought with them belief not only islam there is advice in each one of these verses from the creator allah swt who is talking directly with each believer the book is in two volumes the tenth century was a formative period for islamic culture and adam mez s renaissance of islam offers a detailed survey of the muslim world during that period no other single work covers the subject as comprehensively mez drew upon a vast range of sources to produce a detailed account of all aspects of islamic culture and society finance religion geography industry and trade law morals navigation etc the result is a lucid and engaging work that even today remains a key resource for researchers and students alike the original edition is now very rare this new edition introduced by julia bray one of the leading scholars of the period makes the work available once again and includes a bibliography and index specially prepared for this edition a new history of persian literature in 18 volumes persian literature is the jewel in the crown of persian culture it has profoundly influenced the literatures of ottoman turkey muslim india and turkic central asia and been a source of inspiration for goethe emerson matthew arnold and jorge luis borges among others yet persian literature has never received the attention it truly deserves a history of persian literature answers this need and offers a new comprehensive and detailed history of its subject this 18 volume authoritative survey reflects the stature and significance of persian literature as the single most important accomplishment of the iranian experience it includes most histories of nineteenth century afghanistan argue that the country remained immune to the colonialism emanating from british india because militarily afghan defenders were successful in keeping out british imperial invaders however despite these military victories colonial influences still made their way into afghanistan looking closely at commerce in and between kabul peshawar and qandahar this book reveals how local afghan nomads and indian bankers responded to state policies on trade british colonial political emphasis on kabul had significant commercial consequences both for the city itself and for the cities it displaced to become the capital of the emerging afghan state focused on routing between three key markets connecting histories in afghanistan challenges the overtly political tone and orientalist bias that characterize classic colonialism and much contemporary discussion of afghanistan most contemporary journalistic and scholarly accounts of the instability gripping afghanistan and pakistan have argued that violent islamic extremism including support for the taliban and related groups is either rooted in pashtun history and culture or finds willing hosts among their communities on both sides of the afghanistan pakistan border abubakar siddique sets out to demonstrate that the failure or even unwillingness of both afghanistan and pakistan to absorb the pashtuns into their state structures and to incorporate them into the economic and political fabric is central to these dynamics and a critical failure of nation and state building in both states in his book he argues that religious extremism is the product of these critical failures and that responsibility for the situation lies to some degree with the elites of both countries partly an eye witness account and partly meticulously researched scholarship the pashtun question describes a people whose destiny will shape the future of pakistan and afghanistan
