People with Animals 2016-03-01 people with animals emphasizes the interdependence of people and animals in society and contributors examine the variety of forms and time depth that these relations can take the types of relationship studied include the importance of manure to farming societies dogs as livestock guardians seasonality in pastoralist societies butchery symbolism and food examples are drawn from the pleistocene to the present day and from the altai mountains ethiopia iraq italy mongolia and north america the 11 papers work from the basis that animals are an integral part of society and that past society is the object of most archaeological inquiry discussion papers explore this topic and use the case studies presented in other contributions to suggest the importance of ethnozoarchaeology not just to archaeology but also to anthrozoology a further contribution to archaeological theory is made by an argument for the validity of ethnozoarchaeology derived models to neanderthals the book makes a compelling case for the importance of human animal relations in the archaeological record and demonstrates why the information contained in this record is of significance to specialists in other disciplines

Animals as Legal Beings 2021 in animals as legal beings maneesh deckha critically examines how canadian law and by extension other legal orders around the world participate in the social construction of the human animal divide and the abject rendering of animals as property through a rigorous but cogent analysis deckha calls for replacing the exploitative property classification for animals with a new transformative legal status or subjectivity called beingness in developing a new legal subjectivity for animals one oriented toward respecting animals for who they are rather than their proximity to idealized versions of humanness animals as legal beings seeks to bring critical animal theorizations and animal law closer together throughout deckha draws upon the feminist animal care tradition as well as feminist theories of embodiment and relationality postcolonial theory and critical animal studies her argument is critical of the liberal legal view of animals and directed at a legal subjectivity for animals attentive to their embodied vulnerability and desirous of an animal friendly cultural shift in the core foundations of anthropocentric legal systems theoretically informed yet accessibly presented animals as legal beings makes a significant contribution to an array of interdisciplinary debates and is an innovative and astute argument for a meaningful more than human turn in law and policy
