web development is a process of creating and maintaining web pages and web applications. It involves the use of various technologies and tools to design and build websites that are accessible, functional, and visually appealing. The process typically includes the use of HTML, CSS, and JavaScript to create the structure and layout of the web pages, and the use of server-side technologies like PHP, Python, and Ruby to handle data and logic. Additionally, web developers often use content management systems (CMS) like WordPress to manage the content of the website. The final goal is to create a user-friendly and effective online presence for a business or organization.
