1974 this white paper is part of a series that promotes knowledge about language technology and its potential it addresses educators journalists politicians language communities and others the availability and use of language technology in europe varies between languages consequently the actions that are required to further support research and development of language technologies also differ for each language the required actions depend on many factors such as the complexity of a given language and the size of its community meta net a network of excellence funded by the european commission has conducted an analysis of current language resources and technologies this analysis focused on the 23 official european languages as well as other important national and regional languages in europe the results of this analysis suggest that there are many significant research gaps for each language a more detailed expert analysis and assessment of the current situation will help maximise the impact of additional research and minimize any risks meta net consists of 54 research centers from 33 countries that are working with stakeholders from commercial businesses government agencies industry research organisations software companies technology providers and european universities together they are creating a common technology vision while developing a strategic research agenda that shows how language technology applications can address any research gaps by 2020

Denshi Tsūshin Gakkai ronbunshi 1985 beginning in the 1930s men and a handful of women came from India's many communities marathi parsi goan north indian and many others to mumbai to work in an industry that constituted in the words of some the original fusion music they worked as composers arrangers assistants and studio performers in one of the most distinctive popular music and popular film cultures on the planet today the songs played by mumbai's studio musicians are known throughout india and the indian diaspora under the popular name bollywood but the musicians themselves remain in their own words behind the curtain the anonymous and unseen performers of one of the world's most celebrated popular music genres now gregory d booth offers a compelling account of the bollywood film music industry from the perspective of the musicians who both experienced and shaped its history in a rare insider's look at the process of musical production from the late 1940s to the mid 1990s before the advent of digital recording technologies booth explains who these unknown musicians were and how they came to join the film music industry on the basis of a fascinating set of first hand accounts from the musicians themselves he reveals how the day to day circumstances of technology and finance shaped both the songs and the careers of their creator and performers booth also unfolds the technological cultural and industrial developments that led to the enormous studio orchestras of the 1960s 90s as well as the factors which ultimately led to their demise in contemporary india featuring an extensive companion website with video interviews with the musicians themselves behind the curtain is a powerful ground level view of this globally important music industry
