episodic writing or increase emotional intensity my self editing worksheet combines a variety of techniques that i have taught in online workshops into one place with tips to help you refine and polish your manuscript by the end of the worksheet you ll have 1 a good large scale view of your story structure and character arc and knowledge about how to fix any problems in that area 2 tips for how to revise more emotion into your writing 3 tools for solving pacing issues 4 a deeper look at technical writing errors to look for in your writing 5 an understanding of your own strengths and weaknesses in terms of critiquing yourself this 69 page worksheet consists of lessons homework and fun exercises for you to apply various types of self editing on your manuscript you ll learn lots of simple techniques to help you revise and tighten your manuscript to be the best it can be note i made this worksheet originally for a class i was asked to teach this is essentially the shortened versions of both my deep point of view worksheet and my characterization worksheet this contains about 60 of what s in my deep pov worksheet and about 70 of what s in my characterization worksheet both of those worksheets go into more depth about deep pov and characterization so if they both interest you you ll get more information and instruction if you buy those two separately however if you want more bang for your buck this worksheet is like the abridged versions of those two worksheets combined into one worksheet just be aware that this will contain much of the same stuff rather than being all new material whether your story is plot driven or character driven characterization is important your readers identify and or empathize with your characters and that s what keeps them on the edge of their seats wanting to know what happens next to your characters when your reader is apathetic about your character they are more likely to put your book down they simply aren t as invested in the character and are not as interested in the conflict surrounding them a three dimensional character with flaws and strengths usually doesn t just jump out of a writer s head typically writers spend a great deal of time embellishing and digging deeper into a character whether before the book is written or as they re editing three dimensional characterization is usually a deliberate concentrated effort also sometimes when a writer has hit a wall when writing their novel it could be that the writer just doesn t know the character well enough this worksheet will help you develop your story characters by the end of this worksheet you will have 1 a solid grasp of who your character is and i m not talking just favorite ice cream flavor 2 your character s flaws and heroic qualities to make him her truly sympathetic to the reader 3 the character s unique qualities to make him her stand out from all the other characters on the barnes and noble shelves 4 your character s desire and external goal you d be amazed at how this can change from your original ideas about your character as you dig deeper and discover who your character is 5 the motivation behind your character s actions and not something done over and over again but something really juicy and unique that shapes your protagonist to make him her a richer deeper character 6 conflict and obstacles that directly impact your character s external goal 7 the riveting climax of the story both external events and also internal arc this worksheet will guide you through several steps and questions that will help you delve deeper into your characters to make them realistic heroic and memorable provides a linguistic foundation for students of all majors assisted by numerous pedagogical aids a concise introduction to idealistic and unafraid she believes that chairman mao is on the side of the people despite what her family keeps telling her how can she trust them when she has just learned that her parents have lied to her for her whole life that her mother pearl is really her aunt and that her real father is a famous artist who has been living in china all these years joy arrives in green dragon village where families live in crowded windowless huts and eke out a meagre existence from the red soil and where a handsome young comrade catches her eye meanwhile pearl returns to china to bring her daughter home if she can for mao has launched his great leap forward and each passing season brings ever greater hardship to cities and rural communes alike joy must rely on her skill as a painter and pearl must use her contacts from her decadent childhood in 1930s shanghai to find a way to safety and a chance of joy for them both haunting passionate and heartbreakingly real this is the unforgettable new novel by the internationally acclaimed lisa see in 1867 lisa see s great great grandfather left china in search of riches on the gold mountain the chinese name for the promised land
