is there too much emphasis on guided reading in primary classrooms it s a question that many educators like kindergarten teacher and literacy coach cathy mere are starting to ask guided reading provides opportunities to teach students the strategies they need to learn how to read increasingly challenging texts but cathy found that she needed to find other ways to help students gain independence while maintaining guided reading as an important piece of their reading program teachers need to offer students opportunities during the day to develop as readers to learn to choose books to find favorite genres and authors and to talk about their reading in more than guided reading cathy shares her journey as she moved from focusing on guided reading as the center of her

reading program to placing children at the heart of literacy learning not only providing more time for students to discover their reading lives but also shaping instruction to meet the needs of the diverse learners in her classroom by changing the structure of the day cathy found she was better able to adjust the support she was providing students allowing time for whole class focus lessons conferences and opportunities to share ideas as well as reading from self selected texts using the strategies skills and understandings acquired in reader s workshop the focus lesson is the centerpiece of the workshop it is often tied to a read aloud and connected to learning from the previous day helping to build skills extend thinking and develop independence over time this thoroughly practical text offers numerous sample lessons questions for conferences and ideas for revamping guided reading groups it will help teachers tweak the mix of instructional components in their reading workshops and provoke school wide conversations about the place of guided reading in a complete literacy curriculum fostering faith in children is a shared privilege and responsibility of parents godparents and the church community we promise our children at baptism that we will support them in their faith formation in the formation of their relationship with god we need to take this promise seriously this book is intended to be an accessible and helpful resource for parents and other adults who seek to foster children s faith this book succinctly explores many ways we can support children s faith formation including our day to day interactions with children the images of god we share with them how we pray together the rituals we create service opportunities we provide music we share together the stories we tell and listen to our celebration of the sacraments and more while this book has a distinctly roman catholic orientation much of the content will be relevant for a wider christian audience lastly but perhaps most importantly this book is rooted in the conviction that the god we seek relationship with and that we hope to foster our children s relationship with is one who is infinitely loving welcoming and always yearning for deeper connection with us Caregiver involvement is key to a child's reading success story and libraries are in the perfect position to provide the guidance needed for parents and caregivers to embrace their role as their children's first and most enduring teachers. Libraries offer many programs and services for children but sometimes caregivers are left out of the equation especially once children start school. Nevertheless, parents and caregivers are an integral part of literacy development and libraries are a great place for them to witness modeling practices and participate in engaging family programs that encourage early literacy. Mary Schreiber combines personal experience and professional research with the programming expertise of youth librarians from across the country in this guide for libraries looking to make an even greater impact on the level of literacy attained by the children they serve. In partnering with parents, readers will find a wealth of information on how to talk to caregivers about the different stages of a child's reading life, what books to recommend to excite both caregivers and children about reading, and ways to encourage parent and caregiver participation in library programming. With additional information on working with and providing programming for diverse families, whether you are a veteran in the profession or brand new to working with families, you will find something in this book that will help you to make your library a more integral part of the education community.
