frustrating and fruitless it seems like no progress will ever be made towards any understanding much less resolution or even compromise judgments like these however are premature because some basic techniques from critical thinking such as carefully defining words and testing definitions stating the full structure of arguments so each step of the reasoning can be examined and comparing the strengths and weaknesses of different explanations can help us make progress towards these goals when emotions run high we sometimes need to step back and use a passion for calm cool critical thinking this helps us better understand the positions and arguments of people who see things differently from us as well as our own positions and arguments and we can use critical thinking skills help to try to figure out which positions are best in terms of being supported by good arguments after all we might have much to learn from other people sometimes that our own views should change for the better here we use basic critical thinking skills to argue that abortion is typically not morally wrong we begin with less morally controversial claims adults children and babies are wrong to kill and wrong to kill fundamentally because they we are conscious aware and have feelings we argue that since early fetuses entirely lack these characteristics they are not inherently wrong to kill and so most abortions are not morally wrong since most abortions are done early in pregnancy before consciousness and feeling develop in the fetus furthermore since the right to life is not the right to someone else s body fetuses might not have the right to the pregnant woman s body which she has the right to and so she has the right to not allow the fetus use of her body this further justifies abortion at least until technology allows for the removal of fetuses to other wombs since morally permissible actions should be legal abortions should be legal it is an injustice to criminalize actions that are not wrong in the course of arguing for these claims we 1 discuss how to best define abortion 2 dismiss many common question begging arguments that merely assume their conclusions instead of giving genuine reasons for them 3 refute some often heard everyday arguments about abortion on all sides 4 explain why the most influential philosophical arguments against abortion are unsuccessful 5 provide some positive arguments that at least early abortions are not wrong 6 briefly discuss the ethics and legality of later abortions and more this essay is not a how to win an argument piece or a tract or any kind of apologetics it is not designed to help anyone win debates everybody wins on this issue when we calmly and respectfully engage arguments with care charity honesty and humility this book is merely a reasoned systematic introduction to the issues that we hope models these skills and virtues its discussion should not be taken as absolute proof of anything much more needs to be understood and carefully discussed always there are three main positions that people adopt within the abortion debate pro life muddled middle and pro choice jesus v abortion critiques the pro choice and muddled middle positions employing several unusual angles 1 the question what would jesus say about abortion if he were here today is given very substantial treatment 2 the abortion debate is usually conducted using moral and metaphysical arguments this book adds in anthropological insights regarding the function of violence in human culture 3 rights language is employed by both sides of the debate to opposite ends this book leads the reader to ask deep questions about the concept of rights 4 the use of historical analogies in the abortion debate goes both directions in the sense that both sides accuse the other of being similar to the defenders of slavery this book contains what is probably the most sophisticated and sustained analysis of the meaning and legitimacy of such analogies 5 many important thinkers are brought into this conversation such as soren kierkegaard eric voegelin julien benda simone weil kenneth burke richard weaver rene girard philip rieff giorgio agamben chantal delsol paul kahn and david bentley hart

1 1 goals 1 1 1 i have two main goals in this book the first is to give an account of the moral significance of merely possible persons persons who relative to a particular 1 circumstance or possible future or world could but in fact never do exist i call that account variabilism my second goal is to use variabilism to begin to address the problem of abortion 1 1 2 we ought to do the best we can for people and we consider this obligation to extend to people who are relative to a world existing or future but does it extend to merely possible people as well and if it does then does it extend to making things better for them by way of bringing them into existence if we say that surely it doesn t does that then mean that our obligation to do the best we can for people does not after all extend to the merely possible that the merely p sible do not matter morally but if the merely possible do not matter morally then doesn t that mean that it would be permissible for us to bring them into miserable existences and even obligatory to do just that in the case where bringing the merely possible into miserable existences creates additional wellbeing for existing 1 references to merely possible persons and later on to persons who do exist existing persons
