of how roman generals carved out the greatest and longest lasting empire the world has ever seen the roman army was one of the most effective fighting forces in history the legions and their commanders carved out an empire which eventually included the greater part of the known world this was thanks largely to the generals who led the roman army to victory after victory and whose strategic and tactical decisions shaped the course of several centuries of warfare this book by the author of the punic wars concentrates on those roman generals who displayed exceptional gifts of leadership and who won the greatest victories with 26 chapters covering the entire span of the roman empire it is a complete history of roman warfare religion is one of the most powerful forces running through human history and although often presented as a force for good its impact is frequently violent and divisive this provocative work brings together cutting edge research from both evolutionary and cognitive psychology to help readers understand the psychological structure of religious morality and the origins of religious violence introduces a fundamentally new approach to the analysis of religion in a style accessible to the general reader applies insights from evolutionary and cognitive psychology to both judaism and christianity and their texts to help understand the origins of religious violence argues that religious violence is grounded in the moral psychology of religion illustrates its controversial argument with reference to the 9 11 terrorist attacks and the response to the attacks from both the terrorists and the president suggests strategies for beginning to counter the divisive aspects of religion discusses the role of religion and religious criticism prisoners and anyone who comes to save them a must read for all who continue to grapple with the twin legacy of hatred and hope from september 11 international terrorism expert roland jacquard s in the name of osama bin laden presents a dramatic portrait of the world s most wanted terrorist and his extensive brotherhood the network of people who operate in his name published originally in france the very week of september 11 as events in the united states shook the world the book has become an international bestseller jacquard details how bin laden became an international emblem of fundamentalist pan islamic anti u s fervor and the leader of a brotherhood so passionate that devotees who have never met him will act autonomously in his name the author explains the global character of bin laden s organization elaborating the extent of his sphere of influence in europe and asia jacquard reveals the construction of bin laden s networks including a profile of his inner circle and their collaboration with overlapping webs of banking drug trafficking religious and terrorist organizations he considers the brotherhood s access to biological chemical and nuclear weapons and warns that with or without bin laden this global terrorist force will remain a threat now in english this edition has been substantially updated in light of recent world events and expanded to include previously unpublished materials featuring a new introduction and afterword new documents include an april 2001 interview by the author with bin laden a september 24 proclamation by bin laden to muslims in pakistan and a key page from dr ayman al zawahiri s book justifying eternal jihad which was smuggled out of afghanistan in october 2001 fbi special agent jeff rinek had a gift for getting child predators to confess all he had to do was share a piece of his soul in the name of the children gives an unflinching look at what it s like to fight a never ending battle against an enemy far more insidious than terrorists the predators lurking amongst us who seek to harm our children during his 30 year career with the fbi jeff rinek worked hundreds of investigations involving crimes against children from stranger abduction to serial homicide to ritualized sexual abuse those who do this kind of work are required to plumb the depths of human depravity to see things no one should ever have to see and once seen can never forget there is no more important or more brutal job in law enforcement and few have been more successful than rinek at solving these sort of cases most famously rinek got cary stayner to confess to all four of the killings known as the yosemite park murders an accomplishment made more extraordinary by the fact that the fbi nearly pinned the crimes on the wrong suspects rinek s recounting of the confession and what he learned about stayner provides perhaps the most revelatory look ever inside the psyche of a serial killer and a privileged glimpse into the art of interrogation in the name of the children takes readers into the trenches of real time investigations where every second counts and any wrong decision or overlooked fact can have tragic repercussions rinek offers an insider s perspective of the actual case agents and street detectives who are the boots on the ground in this war at home by placing us inside the heart and mind of a rigorously honest and remarkably self reflective investigator we will see with our own eyes what it takes and what it costs to try to keep our children safe and to bring to justice those who prey on society s most vulnerable victims with each chapter dedicated to a real case he worked in the name of the children also explores the evolution of rinek as a special agent whose unorthodox empathy based approach to interviewing suspects made him extraordinarily successful in obtaining confessions and the toll it took to have such intimate contact with child molesters and murderers beyond exploring the devastating impact of these unthinkable crimes on the victims and their families this book offers an unprecedented look at how investigators and their loved ones cope while living in the spectre of so much suffering in the name of national security exposes the ways in which the films of alfred hitchcock in conjunction with liberal intellectuals and political figures of the 1950s fostered homophobia so as to politicize issues of gender in the united states as corber shows throughout the 1950s a cast of mind known as the cold war consensus prevailed in the united states promoted by cold war liberals that is liberals who wanted to perserve the legacies of the new deal but also wished to separate liberalism from a communist dominated cultural politics this consensus was grounded in the perceived threat that communists lesbians and homosexuals posed to national security through an analysis of the films of alfred hitchcock combined with new research on the historical context in which these films were produced corber shows how cold war liberals tried to contain the increasing heterogeneity of american society by linking questions of gender and sexual identity directly to issues of national security a strategic move that the films of hitchcock both legitimated and at times undermined drawing on psychoanalytic and marxist theory corber looks at such films as rear window strangers on a train and psycho to show how hitchcock manipulated viewers attachments and identifications to foster and reinforce the relationship between homophobia and national security issues a revisionary account of hitchcock s major works in the name of national security is also of great interest for what it reveals about the construction of political reality in american history in the name of civil society examines philippine politics in a highly original and provocative way hedman s detailed analysis shows how dominant elites in the philippines shore up the structures of liberal democracy in order to ensure their continued hegemony over philippine society this book will be of interest to everyone concerned with civil society and the processes of democratization and democracy in capitalist societies paul d hutchcroft university of wisconsin madison what is the politics of civil society focusing on the philippines home to the mother of all election watch movements the original people power revolt and one of the largest and most diverse ngo populations in the world eva lotta hedman offers a critique that goes against the grain of much other current scholarship her highly original work challenges celebratory and universalist accounts that tend to reify civil society as a unified and coherent entity and to ascribe a single meaning and automatic trajectory to its role in democratization she shows how mobilization in the name of civil society is contingent on the intercession of citizens and performative displays of citizenship as opposed to other appeals and articulations of identity such as class in short hedman argues the very definitions of civil and society are at stake based on extensive research spanning the course of a decade 1991 2001 this study offers a powerful analysis of philippine politics and society inspired by the writings of antonio gramsci it draws on a rich collection of sources from archives interviews newspapers and participant observation it identifies a cycle of recurring crises of authority involving mounting threats from above and below to oligarchical democracy in the philippines tracing the trajectory of gramscian dominant bloc of social forces hedman shows how each such crisis in the philippines promotes a countermobilization by the intellectuals of the dominant bloc the capitalist class the catholic church and the u s government in documenting the capacity of so called secondary associations business lay professional to project moral and intellectual leadership in each of these crises this study sheds new light on the forces and dynamics of change and continuity in philippine politics and society in the name of the church vocation and authorization in lay ecclesial ministry presents insights generated in the 2011 collegeville national symposium on lay ecclesial ministry a gathering designed to prioritize the theological foundations for vocation and
