the two volume oxford companion to comparative politics fills a gap in scholarship on an increasingly important field within political science comparative politics the discipline devoted to the politics of other countries or peoples has been steadily gaining prominence as a field of study allowing politics to be viewed from a wider foundation than a concentration on domestic affairs would permit comparativists apply various theories and concepts to analyze the similarities and differences between political units using the results of their research to develop causalities and generalizations each of these theories and outcomes are thoroughly defined in the companion as are major resultant conclusions those comparativists who have influenced the field in significant ways and politicians whose administrations have shaped the evaluation of contrasting governments approximately 200 revised and updated articles from the oxford companion to politics of the world would serve as a foundation for the set while over 100 new entries would thoroughly examine the field in a lasting more theoretical than current event based way new entries cover such topics as failed states grand strategies and soft power important updates include such countries as china and afghanistan and issues like capital punishment gender and politics and totalitarianism country entries include the most significant nations to permit a focus on non time sensitive analysis in addition 25 1 000 word interpretive essays by notable figures analyze the discipline its issues and accomplishments collectively entries promote deeper understanding of a field that is often elusive to non specialists we often assume that works of visual art are meant to be seen yet that assumption may be a modern prejudice the ancient world from china to greece rome to mexico provides many examples of statues paintings and other images that were not intended to be visible instead of being displayed they were hidden buried or otherwise obscured in this third volume in the visual conversations in art archaeology series leading scholars working at the intersection of archaeology and the history of art address the fundamental question of art's visibility what conditions must be met what has to be in place for a work of art to be seen at all the answer is both historical and methodological it concerns ancient societies and modern disciplines and encompasses material circumstances perceptual capacities technologies of visualization protocols of classification and a great deal more the emerging field of archaeological art history is uniquely suited to address such questions intrinsically comparative this approach cuts across traditional ethnic religious and chronological categories to confront the academic present with the historical past the goal is to produce a new art history that is at once cosmopolitan in method and global in scope and in doing so establish new ways of seeing new conditions of visibility for shared objects of study
