Critical Survey of Long Fiction: Chinua Achebe-Karel Čapek 2000

2013-12-20 this book of essays is a sequel to the international conference on decolonising our universities held in penang malaysia from june 27 to 29 2011 the conference was jointly organised by the universiti sains malaysia and citizens international in cooperation with the higher education leadership academy of the malaysian ministry of higher education at the conference speaker after speaker pointed out that education in asia and africa is too westcentric it blindly apes european universities european curricula and european paradigms the papers in this volume examine possible ways of overcoming this problem of intellectual enslavement in asian and african citadels of learning it must be pointed out at the very outset that this book is not meant to be a tirade against the west its aim is not to ask asian and african universities to shut out europe and north america or to be insular or to wear blinds its aim is positive to make asian and african tertiary education truly global and at the same time socially relevant this cannot be done unless the intellectual monopoly of the west is broken and european knowledge is made to make way for the review teaching and expansion of the vast knowledge of other societies and cultures european knowledge may supplement but never replace other valid knowledge systems and traditions the book is divided into eight parts part i creates the setting provides an overview of the state of our universities reflects on decolonisation of our intellectual heritage and explains how colonial education was used to assault our cultures part ii contains a wish list of the decolonised university there are essays on the philosophical basis of an african university and about how the sacred and the secular can be integrated and how the community can be brought back into the university part iii critically examines the promise and performance of unesco in decolonisation of asian and african institutions of higher learning part iv discusses eurocentrism in social sciences in mathematics and in science curricula part v highlights the state of social sciences and the law today and provides an alternative discourse in social theory history psychotherapy psychology law and language education part vi discusses regional decolonising initiatives in the philippines taiwan turkey and iran part vii provides insights into some experiments in transforming academic pedagogy finally part viii contains some personal journeys in decolonisation of the self this book of essays is meant to coincide with malaysia s independence day on august 31 1957 the hope is that the timing will underline the point that the stains of cultural and intellectual imperialism do not end with the attainment of political freedom freedom is a state of the mind and regrettably throughout asia and africa the enslavement of the mind has continued long after the coloniser has gone back home this humiliating state of affairs must end not only to give meaning to political independence but also to improve the quality of our education by giving to our students a better panorama of world knowledge and thereby to increase their choices decolonisation of our universities is not an exercise in flag waving nationalism its aim is ameliorative diversity and pluralism of knowledge systems are vital for meeting many of the moral social and economic challenges of the times and for avoiding the frightening economic educational and cultural consequences of europe s near total intellectual and educational monopoly over asia africa and latin america for example western models of development have proved to be a nightmare and have not served asia and africa well economic theories from the west have brought the whole world to the brink of an environmental catastrophe asian universities should offer a critique of the ethnocentrism of western scholarship by pointing out that a middle class western lifestyle and what that entails in terms of the nuclear family the consumer society living in suburbia and extensive private space may neither be workable nor desirable on a fragile planet the humiliating story of intellectual enslavement in each field and in each region is best told in the words of the authors what must be noted is the ways in which this subservience manifests itself our university courses reflect the false belief that western knowledge is the sum total of all human knowledge the books prescribed and the icons and godfathers of knowledge are overwhelmingly from the north atlantic countries titles written by scholars and thinkers from asia and africa are rarely included in the book list this may indicate a pervasive inferiority complex or ignorance of the contribution of the east to world civilisation any evaluation of right and wrong of justice and fairness of poverty and development and of what is wholesome and worthy of celebration tends to be based on western perceptions eastern ideas and institutions are viewed through western prisms and invariably regarded as primitive and in need of change despite decades of political independence the framework assumptions of our law politics economics education history science art and culture remain dictated by our former colonial masters our concept of the good life and our views on human rights have very tenuous links to our indigenous traditions our cultural values domestic relations music food and dressing indeed our whole weltanschauung is constructed on a western edifice of knowledge our concept of beauty has been socially constructed by hollywood media in our professions most of the icons we look up to are western in our universities the syllabi we draft the books we prescribe the theories we blindly ape the new abodes of the sacred we worship have very little connection with our own intellectual and moral heritage it is fashionable in asian universities to import expatriate lecturers external examiners and guest speakers exclusively from north atlantic countries asian scholars are generally not regarded as fit for

Black Literature Criticism: Achebe-Ellison 1992 focuses on writers and works published since 1950 the majority of the authors surveyed are african american but representative african and caribbean authors are also included

Postcolonialism, Decoloniality and Development 2018-12-07 in answering the question of life s meaning the african perspective is only just beginning to emerge while this is true a critical examination of african theories of meaningfulness the possibility of life s meaninglessness as well as ideas about the proper mode mood for living with the meaninglessness of life are largely underexplored within the african philosophical tradition this book provides several plausible accounts of meaning in of life from an african perspective examines the relationship between death and life s meaningfulness and explores the possibility of life s meaninglessness proposing the philosophy of indifference as the proper mode mood for living with the meaninglessness of life

Leslie Fiedler 2014-04-04 african literature has never been more visible than it is today whereas chinua achebe wole soyinka and ngugi wa thiong o defined a golden generation of african writers in the 20th century a new generation of afropolitan writers including chimamanda adichie teju cole taiye selasi and noviolet bulawayo have taken the world by storm by snatching up prestigious awards and selling millions of copies of their works but what is the new increasingly fashionable and marketable afropolitan vision of africa s place in the world that they offer how does it differ from that of previous generations why do some dissent afropolitanism refuses to reinforce images of africa in world media as merely poor war torn diseased and constantly falling into chaos by complicating the image of africa as a hapless victim afropolitanism focuses on the wide ranging influence africa has on the world however some have characterized this kind of writing as light populist fare that panders to western audiences afropolitan literature as world literature examines the controversy surrounding afropolitan literature in light of the unprecedented circulation of culture made possible by globalization and ultimately argues for expanding its geographic and temporal boundaries
