NIV, The Journey Bible 2014-04-21 the author of hebrews is arguing that god himself has brought about the fulfillment of these institutions through his son s priesthood his once for all sacrifice and the new covenant he inaugurated in the last days these new institutions are never denied the jews in fact the context of the epistle presumes that these are primarily for the jews considering that the author was speaking to a jewish christian community the author is not arguing for the abandonment by god of the jewish people but rather for the abandonment of the shadowy means by which god s people drew near to him it is here we can speak of a qualified supersessionism according to the author of hebrews the levitical priesthood the mosaic covenant and the levitical sacrifices have been superseded by jesus priesthood the new covenant and jesus once for all sacrifice however we conclude that the polemical passages in hebrews do not promote hatred of the jews nor do they advocate the destruction of the jewish people rather the author of hebrews stresses the fulfillment of specific jewish institutions for the benefit of the jews it is this idea of fulfillment that rules out the charge that the epistle promotes the supercession of the jewish people because of god s great love for his people he has provided a superior way by which his people can draw near to him from the conclusion

Polemic in the Book of Hebrews 2016-03 a history of the chapter from its origins in antiquity to today why do books have chapters with this seemingly simple question nicholas dames embarks on a literary journey spanning two millennia revealing how an ancient editorial technique became a universally recognized component of narrative art and a means to register the sensation of time dames begins with the textual compilations of the roman world where chapters evolved as a tool to organize information he goes on to discuss the earliest divisional systems of the gospels and the segmentation of medieval romances describing how the chapter took on new purpose when applied to narrative texts and how narrative segmentation gave rise to a host of aesthetic techniques dames shares engaging and in depth readings of influential figures from sterne goethe tolstoy and dickens to george eliot machado de assis b s johnson agnès varda uwe johnson jennifer egan and lászló krasznahorkai he illuminates the sometimes tacit sometimes dramatic ways in which the chapter became a kind of reckoning with time and a quiet but persistent feature of modernity ranging from ancient tablets and scrolls to contemporary fiction and film the chapter provides a compelling elegantly written history of a familiar compositional mode that readers often take for granted and offers a new theory of how this versatile means of dividing narrative sculpts our experience of time
