founded in 1411 by sultan ahmed shah on the banks of the river sabarmati ahmedabad is today india s seventh largest city and also one of the subcontinent s few medieval cities which continues to be prosperous and important soon after it was established the royal city of ahmedabad became the commercial and cultural capital of gujarat when the mughal empire annexed gujarat in 1572 ahmedabad lost its political pre eminence but continued to flourish as a great trading centre connecting the silk route with the spice route briefly under the marathas in the eighteenth century ahmedabad experienced a dimming of its fortunes but with the beginning of british control from the early nineteenth century the city reasserted its mercantile ethos even as it began questioning age old social hierarchies the opening of the first textile mill in 1861 was a turning point and by the end of the century ahmedabad was known as the manchester of the east when gandhi returned to india from south africa in 1915 looking for a place where he could establish an institution for the whole of india it was ahmedabad he chose with the setting up of his sabarmati ashram the great manufacturing centre also became a centre for new awakening it became the political hub of india radiating the message of freedom struggle based on truth and non violence after independence it emerged as one of the fastest growing cities of india and in the 1960s ahmedabadis pioneered institutions of higher education and research in new fields such as space sciences management design and architecture yet through the centuries ahmedabad s prosperity has been punctuated by natural disasters and social discord from famines and earthquakes to caste and religious violence ahmedabadis have tried to respond to these trying to meld economic progress with a new culture of social harmony coinciding with the 600th anniversary of the founding of ahmedabad this broad brush history highlights socio economic patterns that emphasize indo islamic and indo european synthesis and continuity bringing the focus back to the pluralistic heritage of this medieval city evocative profiles of ahmedabadi merchants industrialists poets and saints along with descriptions and illustrations of the city s art and architecture bring alive the city and its citizens urbanisation is rapidly changing the geographic and social landscape of india and indeed asia as a whole issues of collective violence urban poverty and discrimination become crucial factors in the redefinition of citizenship not only in legal terms but also in a cultural and socio economic dimension while indian cities are becoming the centres of a culture of exclusion against vulnerable social groups a long term perspective is essential to understand the patterns that shaped the space politics economy and culture of contemporary metropolises this book takes a critical longer term view of india s economic transition the idea that urban growth goes hand in hand with the modernisation of the country does not account for the fact that increasingly higher portions of the urban population are comprised of lower income groups casual labourers and slum dwellers using the case study of ahmedabad this book investigates the history of city and of its people over the twentieth century it analyses the contrasting relationship between urban authorities and the inhabitants of ahmedabad and examines instances of antagonism and negotiation amongst people groups and between the people and the public authority that have continuously shaped transformed and redefined life in the city this book offers an important tool for understanding the bigger context of the conflicts the social and cultural issues that accompanied the broader process of urbanisation in contemporary india it will be of interest to scholars of urban history studies of collective violence and south asian studies
