discusses the relationship between art and history and the ways in which art can tell a different history from the one narrated by texts about the series the very short introductions series from oxford university press contains hundreds of titles in almost every subject area these pocket sized books are the perfect way to get ahead in a new subject quickly our expert authors combine facts analysis perspective new ideas and enthusiasm to make interesting and challenging topics highly readable principles of art history writing traces the changes in the way in which writers about art represent the same works these differ in such deep ways as to raise the question of whether those at the beginning of the process even saw the same things as those at the end did carrier uses four case studies to identify and explain changing styles of restoration and the history of interpretation of selected works by piero caravaggio and van eyck back cover this invaluable guide enables students to get the most from their art history course written in an accessible style the book introduces two basic art historical methods formal analysis and contextual analysis in this new edition revising author michael cothren has extended the discussion on iconography and iconology as well as adding discussions on the effects of the market and museums on art greater emphasis is placed on the global and multicultural aspects of art creation and analysis with new images and more case studies there is more step by step guidance on how to use these methods to prepare for exams and write papers this is a classic essay on how to approach the subject of art history pächt aims to sharpen perceptions by recreating the social and cultural context in which an art object was made is writing a world art history possible does the history of art as such even exist outside the western tradition is it possible to consider the history of art in a way that is not fundamentally eurocentric in this highly readable and provocative book david carrier a philosopher and art historian does not attempt to write a world art history himself rather he asks the question of how an art history of all cultures could be written or whether it is even possible to do so he also engages the political and moral issues raised by the idea of a multicultural art history focusing on a consideration of intersecting artistic traditions carrier negotiates the way meaning and understanding shift or are altered when a visual object from one culture for example is inserted into the visual tradition of another culture a world art history and its objects proposes the use of temporal narrative as a way to begin to understand a multicultural art history thinking about art explores some of the greatest works of art and architecture in the world through the prism of themes instead of chronology to offer intriguing juxtapositions of art and history the book ranges across time and topics from the parthenon to the present day and from patronage to ethnicity to reveal art history in new and varied lights with over 200 colour illustrations and a wealth of formal and contextual analysis thinking about art is a companion guide for art lovers students and the general reader and is also the first a level art history textbook written by a skilled and experienced teacher of art history penny huntsman the book is accompanied by a companion website at wiley com go thinkingaboutart art history and its institutions focuses on the institutional discourses that shaped and continue to shape the field from its foundations in the nineteenth century from museums and universities to law courts labour organizations and photography studios contributors examine a range of institutions considering their impact on movements such as modernism their role in conveying or denying legitimacy and their impact on defining the parameters of the discipline through a series of cross disciplinary and interdisciplinary interventions leading international scholars of history and art history explore ways in which the study of images enhances knowledge of the past and informs our understanding of the present spanning a diverse range of time periods and places the contributions cumulatively showcase ways in which ongoing dialogue between history and art history raises important aesthetic ethical and political questions for the disciplines the volume fosters a methodological awareness that enriches exchanges across these distinct fields of knowledge this innovative book will be of interest to scholars in art history cultural studies history visual culture and historiography this undergraduate text covers the standard old and new methodological approaches to art history in a clear direct and understandable way these essays discuss major questions that should arise in courses in bibliography methodology and historiography once the survey courses are left behind this volume of essays offers new arguments regarding the significance of the social biography of art and the transformative power of ownership it realigns the traditional art historical paradigm that focuses on the moment of an object s origin and instead considers the longue durée of ownership whereas the term provenance may call to mind little more than a list of owners or the legal questions raised by competing entitlement claims the essays in this book demonstrate that a nuanced approach recuperates important even dramatic aspects of the history of art the authors present a broad perspective on provenance investigating examples from europe asia africa and the americas and from ancient archaeology to conceptual art they explore how stories of ownership are attached to objects analyze important distinctions between provenance and provenience and show how provenance can be monetized politicized suppressed or otherwise instrumentalized page 4 of cover this anthology is a guide to
