in this story two significant events in canadian history intersect the rollout of the avro arrow on october 4 1957 and the ongoing land claims of the first nations mississauga lois michelsen is almost fourteen when she is uprooted from her childhood home in small town ontario and moved to centrewood a brand new model satellite community located on the outskirts of toronto her father views it as his ideal city since its plan is based on concentric circles instead of a grid plan which lois prefers only the adjacent abandoned farm with its fallow pastureland resurgent wildlife winding stream and quiet woods offers her solace through the long hot and lonely summer there she befriends a newly hatched painted turtle discovers a red salamander and finds herself protected by a bald headed eagle concerned about lois facing a new school alone her mother foists on her a new little friend from the neighbourhood a little hussy named mitsy whose cat s eyes sharp tongue and lewd behaviour wreak havoc unlike normal dreams lois is susceptible to waking visions when real time is suspended in dual planes of reality her father is lead aeronautical engineer for the avro arrow when she attends the rollout in malton her sensibilities open her up to the waking vision of an indian chief standing on the tarmac next to the arrow

Children and Youth in a New Nation

2009

in the early years of the republic as americans tried to determine what it meant to be an american they also wondered what it meant to be an american child a defensive even fearful approach to childhood gave way to a more optimistic campaign to integrate young americans into the republican experiment in children and youth in a new nation historians unearth the experiences of and attitudes about children and youth during the decades following the american revolution beginning with the revolution itself the contributors explore a broad range of topics from the ways in which american children and youth participated in and learned from the revolt and its aftermaths to developing notions of ideal childhoods as they were imagined by new religious denominations and competing ethnic groups to the struggle by educators over how the society that came out of the revolution could best be served by its educational systems the volume concludes by foreshadowing future child saving efforts by reformers committed to constructing adequate systems of public health and child welfare institutions rooted in the historical literature and primary sources children and youth in a new nation is a key resource in our understanding of origins of modern ideas about children and youth and the conflation of national purpose and ideas related to child development

New Mentalities of Government in China

2016-01-13

china continues to transform apace flowing from the forces of deregulation privatization and globalization unleashed by economic reforms which began in late 1978 the dramatic scope of economic change in china is often counterposed to the apparent lack of political change as demonstrated by continued chinese communist party ccp rule however the ongoing dominance of the ccp belies the fact that much has also changed in relation to practices of government including how authorities and citizens interact in the management of daily life new mentalities of government in china examines how the privatization and professionalization of public service provision is transforming the nature of government and everyday life in the people s republic of china prc the book addresses key theoretical questions on the nature of government in china and documents the emergence of a range of new mentalities of government in china its chapters focus on areas such as clinical trials conceptualizing government consumer activity elite philanthropy lifestyle and beauty advice public health social work volunteering and urban and rural planning offering a topical examination of shifting modes of governance in contemporary china this book will appeal to scholars in the fields of anthropology history politics and sociology
