Best Mate

2003

two images immortalize the 2003 cheltenham festival the brilliant best mate sprinting clear in the gold cup and trainer henrietta knight embracing husband terry biddlecombe in a celebration not just of victory but of life itself this is henrietta s own story on the horse and the huge successes culminating in back to back cheltenham gold cup wins have made him a tv superstar in telling the horse s story from a rain soaked foal stranded on an irish hillside to the big bold and ballet supple athlete who now pitches for a third gold cup henrietta has also recounted her own romantic tale how she an aristocratic former school teacher met terry biddlecombe the prince hall of his own champion jockey era thus forging a rock solid if rather implausible double act that has been so instrumental in helping each through their difficult times produced an interesting insight into the making of a champion and the shared dreams that sustain those around him

Glorious Summers and Discontents

in this fascinating book mike atherton selects the best pieces he has written over the last decade renowned as a shrewd and resolute captain of england atherton moved effortlessly into the commentary box and fleet street proving himself every bit as capable with the pen as with the bat it has been a dramatic period seeing the rise of twenty20 cricket and the ipl as well as the revival of england s prospects breaking a long era of australian dominance in the ashes there has also been controversy too with terrorist attacks zimbabwe and allegations of pakistani spot fixing all distracting fans from the essence of the game through it all atherton comments with the true insight of one who has been there the humane understanding of someone who has genuine empathy for the issues involved and above all his opinions are based on a deep love for the game and sport in general his writing has become essential reading for all sports fans this book shows exactly why that is the case

Not Enough Time

this is the rollercoaster story of a great love between racehorse trainer henrietta knight and her husband terry biddlecombe a hell raising ex champion jockey with two failed marriages and a history of alcoholism behind him it is a story of triumph over tragedy as together they reached the pinnacle of success in national hunt racing and trained best mate to win three cheltenham gold cups it is also a tale of tragedy over triumph which saw the great horse die at hen s feet on exeter racecourse and terry passing away far too young in 2014 hen and terry were called the odd couple because of their different backgrounds and lifestyles but their love for each other was to produce one of the most endearing modern day racing romances here henrietta s humorous courageous words is their story told in full for the first time when benito mussolini proclaimed that cinema is the strongest weapon he was telling only half the story in reality very few feature films during the fascist period can be labeled as propaganda re viewing fascism considers the many films that failed as weapons in creating cultural consensus and instead came to reflect the complexities and contradictions of fascist culture the volume also examines the connection between cinema of the fascist period and neorealism ties that many scholars previously had denied in an attempt to view fascism as an unfortunate deviation in italian history the postwar directors luchino visconti roberto rossellini and vittorio de sica all had important roots in the fascist era as did the venice film festival while government censorship loomed over italian filmmaking it did not prevent frank depictions of sexuality and representations of men and women that challenged official gender policies re viewing fascism brings together scholars from different cultural and disciplinary backgrounds as it offers an engaging and innovative look into italian cinema fascist culture and society
