recent history to its distant past and proclaiming the eternal continuity of the russian state more than an absorbing history of russia s most famous landmark red fortress uses the kremlin as a unique lens bringing into focus the evolution of russia s culture and the meaning of its politics this book focuses on yellowstone the park the larger ecosystem and even more so the idea of yellowstone in presenting a case for a new conservation paradigm for the greater yellowstone ecosystem gye including yellowstone national park the book at its heart is about people and nature relationships this new paradigm will be truly committed to a healthy sustainable environment rich in other life forms and one that affords dignity for all humans and nonhumans the new story or paradigm must be about living such a commitment and future for gye in real time the book presents a well developed theory for interdisciplinary problem solving that is grounded in practice to celebrate the 20th anniversary of nyrb classics a handpicked anthology of selections from the series in greek mythology ariadne gave theseus a ball of red thread to guide him through the labyrinth and the red thread offers a path through and a way to explore the ins and outs and twists and turns of the celebrated nyrb classics series now twenty years old the collection brings together twenty five pieces drawn from the more than five hundred books that have come out as nyrb classics over the last twenty years stories essays interviews poems along with chapters from novels and memoirs and other longer narratives have been selected by edwin frank the series editor to chart a distinctive entertaining and thought provoking course across the expansive and varied terrain of the classics series the last general election saw the conservatives win their highest vote share in forty years while labour slumped to their lowest seat total since 1935 at the heart of this electoral earthquake was the so called red wall some sixty seats stretching from the midlands up to the north of england who are the red wall voters and why did they forgo their long standing party loyalties did they simply lend their votes to johnson to get brexit done or will he be able to win them over more permanently and as the labour party licks its wounds how were those votes thrown away and what if anything can be done to win them back and how will the pandemic and the government s reaction to it change the voter s outlook on party politics in the future will everything be the same after it has passed this book sets out to answer those questions by putting them to the people who will decide the next election includes part 1 number 1 books and pamphlets including serials and contributions to periodicals january june a russian military strike against europe could change the balance of power in the west a stunningly realistic view of modern warfare from a battlefield commander and the new york times bestselling author of the gray man the russian bear has awakened their tanks race across poland crushing all opposition on a headlong dash for the heart of germany satellite killing missiles blind american forces while spetznatz teams destroy allied communications relays it s all part of a master plan to confuse and defeat america and her allies ranged against the russian attack are a marine lieutenant colonel pulled out of a cushy job at the pentagon and thrown into the fray a french special forces captain and his intelligence operative father a young polish female partisan fighter an a 10 warthog pilot and the captain of an american tank platoon who along with a german sergeant struggle to keep a small group of american and german tanks in the fight operation red metal is a nightmare scenario made real but could it just be the first move on the russian chessboard anne konrad s red quarter moon is the gripping account of her search for family members lost and disappeared within the soviet union konrad s ancestors mennonites had settled the ukrainian steppes in the late 1790s an ethno religious minority they became special objects of soviet persecution though her parents fled in 1929 many relatives remained in the ussr konrad s search for these missing extended family members took place over twenty years and five continents on muddy roads lonesome steppes and in old letters documents or secret police archives her story emerges as both haunting and inspiring filled with dramatically different accounts from survivors now scattered across the world she aligns the voices of her subjects chronologically against the backdrop of soviet policy intertwining the historical context of the terror years with her own personal quest red quarter moon is an enthralling journey into the past that offers a unique look at the lives of ordinary families and individuals in the ussr that rare thing a piece of careful scholarship that is also superbly entertaining starr who is president of oberlin college and has been associated with the kennan institute for advanced russian studies is also a professional jazz musician and his knowledgeable affection for the music shines through the text andrea lee new york times book review daniel johnson journalist scholar and chess enthusiast is the perfect guide to one of history's most remarkable periods when chess matches were front page news and captured the world's imagination journal of a young american diplomat covering his 18 months as an attache at our embassy in 1951-52 for most of the twentieth century american and european intellectual life was defined by its fascination with a particular utopian vision both the artistic and political vanguards were spellbound by the communist promise of a new human era so much so that its political terrors were rationalized as a form of applied evolution and its collapse hailed as the end of history the red atlantis argues that communism produced a complex culture with a dialectical relation to both modernism and itself offering examples ranging from the stalinist show trial to franz kafka's posthumous career as a dissident writer and the work of filmmakers painters and writers which can be understood only as criticism of existing socialism made from within the red atlantis suggests that communism was an aesthetic project perhaps the aesthetic project of the twentieth century author note j hoberman staff writer for the village voice writes on film and culture for the voice the voice literary supplement artforum and other publications his books include bridge of light yiddish film between two worlds temple 1995 and vulgar modernism writing on movies and other media temple 1991 which was nominated for the national book critics circle award in criticism he is an adjunct professor of cinema at the cooper union in the late 1960s student protests broke out throughout much of the world and while britain's anti vietnam protestors and china's red guards were clearly radically different these movements at times shared inspirations aspirations and aesthetics within western popular media mao's china was portrayed as a danger to world peace but at the same time for some on the counter cultural left the cultural revolution 1966-1976 contained ideas worthy of exploration moreover because of britain's continued colonial possession of hong kong britain had a specific interest in ongoing events in china and information was highly sought after thus the objects that china exported propaganda posters paintings mao badges periodicals ceramics etc became a crucial avenue through which china was known at this time and interest in them crossed the political divide collecting the revolution uses the objects that the chinese government sent abroad and that visitors brought back with them to open up the stories of diplomats journalists activists students and others and how they imagined engaged with and later remembered mao's china through its objects it chronicles the story of how these objects were later incorporated into the collections of some of britain's most prominent museums thus allowing later generations to continue to engage with one of the most controversial and important periods of china's recent history in the late 1960s student protests broke out throughout much of the world and while britain's anti vietnam protestors and china's red guards were clearly radically different these movements at times shared inspirations aspirations and aesthetics within western popular media mao's china was portrayed as a danger to world peace but at the same time for some on the counter cultural left the cultural revolution 1966 1976 contained ideas worthy of exploration moreover because of britain's continued colonial possession of hong kong britain had a specific interest in ongoing events in china and information was highly sought after thus the objects that china exported propaganda posters paintings mao badges periodicals ceramics etc became a crucial avenue through which china was known at this time and interest in them crossed the political divide collecting the revolution uses the objects that the chinese government sent abroad and that visitors brought back with them to open up the stories of diplomats journalists activists students and others and how they imagined engaged with and later remembered mao's china through its objects it chronicles the story of how these objects were later incorporated into the collections of some of britain's most prominent museums thus allowing later generations to continue to engage with one of the most controversial and important periods of china's recent history
