every life matters when you truly see a person god has placed in your path not just with your eyes but also with your heart you just might catch a glimpse of god when you cultivate the ability to see the invisible you open yourself up to the opportunity for spiritual transformation some individuals may seem obscure even invisible to the world but if you choose to engage in a meaningful way to hear and understand their story the encounter could transform you and them listen in on a conversation between dr arthur ammann and barbara mclennan inspired by the brief letter of the apostle paul to philemon dr ammann presents rich stories of transformation occurring in the lives of friends brothers and sisters husbands and wives and even strangers bringing new found value to each individual together they explore what it means to engage in authentic relationships and confront the devastating influences of our culture and technology which threaten to undermine the value of individuals the authors will challenge you to expect that transformation may occur in every encounter and to resist the relentless intrusion of technology that seeks to diminish our value in united states law and policy on transitional justice principles politics and pragmatics zachary d kaufman explores the u s government s support for or opposition to certain transitional justice institutions by first presenting an overview of possible responses to atrocities such as war crimes tribunals and then analyzing six historical case studies kaufman evaluates why and how the united states has pursued particular transitional justice options since world war ii this book challenges the legalist paradigm which postulates that liberal states pursue war crimes tribunals because their decision makers hold a principled commitment to the rule of law kaufman develops an alternative theory prudentialism which contends that any state liberal or illiberal may support bona fide war crimes tribunals more generally prudentialism proposes that states pursue transitional justice options not out of strict adherence to certain principles but as a result of a case specific balancing of politics pragmatics and normative beliefs kaufman tests these two competing theories through the u s experience in six contexts germany and japan after world war ii the 1988 bombing of pan am flight 103 the 1990 1991 iraqi offenses against kuwaitis the atrocities in the former yugoslavia in the 1990s and the 1994 rwandan genocide kaufman demonstrates that political and pragmatic factors featured as or more prominently in u s transitional justice policy than did u s government officials normative beliefs kaufman thus concludes that at least for the united states prudentialism is superior to legalism as an explanatory theory in transitional justice policymaking

pheme perkins searches for the historical peter and the influence his image has had for both roman catholics and protestants pointing to portrayals of peter in the pauline and johannine traditions the synoptic gospels and the book of acts perkins argues that precisely because there is no single petrine tradition in the new testament the apostle should serve as a unifying figure for many forms of christianity she shows how peter should be viewed as a harmonising figure who captures the christian imagination not only because he is the most prominent of jesus disciples but also because his weaknesses and strengths reveal a character accessible to all christians the image of christ in modern art explores the challenges presented by the radical and rapid changes of artistic style in the 20th century to artists who wished to relate to traditional christian imagery in the 1930s david jones said that he and his contemporaries were acutely conscious of the break by which he meant the fragmentation and loss of a once widely shared christian narrative and set of images in this highly illustrated book richard harries looks at some of the artists associated with the birth of modernism such as epstein and rouault as well as those with a highly distinctive understanding of religion such as chagall and stanley spencer he discusses the revival of confidence associated with the rebuilding of coventry cathedral after world war ii and the commissioning of work by artists like henry moore graham sutherland and john piper before looking at the very testing last quarter of the 20th century he shows how here and even more in our own time fresh and important visual interpretations of christ have been created both by well known and less well known artists in conclusion he suggests that the modern movement in art has turned out to be a friend not a foe of christian art through a wide and beautiful range of images and insightful text harries explores the continuing challenge present from the beginning of christian art as to how that which is visual can in some way indicate the transcendent
