one had an adventurous life while camilla mills followed a safer path when susie suddenly dies mills falls apart until she receives a bundle of mysterious letters from her estranged sister to be read in the case of her death each letter instructs her to visit a place special to susie both to spread her ashes but also to uncover some truths susie has long kept hidden from her family their mother margaret has secrets of her own when living in swinging sixties london she too made a decision about her life that not only haunts her but will reverberate through the generations one family three very different women what choices and secrets connect them in this novel of truth and lies concealment and regret jane cockram flips the looking glass to expose our true face revealing the deep lines of deception that can run through families and how the people we love the most often have the most to hide a game changing practical guide to the psychology behind your spending habits revealing how to manage your money without missing out on the things you love have you ever avoided looking at your banking app after a big night out placed an online order during a late night doomscroll or felt helpless when your new budget simply failed to stick despite your best intentions if that sounds familiar this is the book for you in the age of smartphones and social media we re surrounded by an endless stream of stuff we could buy not to mention social conditioning around what makes us happy as well as fast fashion algorithmic advertising and where did you get that culture financial behaviour expert emma edwards will help you unpack the reasons you re so emotionally tangled with your money spoiler it s absolutely not your fault and look at what might be keeping you stuck she ll teach you to reclaim your decision making deep dive into your beliefs identity and habits and come out the other side feeling good with money with a step by step guide to creating a money management system that actually works good with money will change the way you think about budgeting consumption and yourself and put you back in the driver s seat of your own financial future a practical funny and relatable guide that won t make you feel bad about your finances sal al from two broke chicks emma edwards is redefining financial wellbeing for a whole generation of women realistic inclusive and tangible money advice with heart maggie zhou this book will not just tell you how to improve your financial situation but help you understand why it s always been so damn hard ash london includes bibliographical references and index the lyrics from a famous barbara streisand smash hit prompted me to thought it is time to stir up an antiquated way of life one that longs to resurface one that needs to be analyzed we as a society need to re evaluate things look at the direction we are going as a culture possibly check ourselves life can be such a simple thing yet we complicate it why can t we keep it that way simple if only for a moment why must we continually try to complicate it why can t we embrace the concept of living day by day this is what this literary project attempts to do it is meant to make the reader ponder to make us look within ourselves to review our societal norms to evaluate what we have allowed to erode we must then ask if we can recapture some of those long lost traditions and values susannah and rob were childhood sweethearts but as with most early love affairs they broke up moved on and now find themselves in very different places and not entirely happy who is a chance meeting between them sends shockwaves through their lives what happens when your first love makes a surprise reappearance changing the way we teach writing and resistance in the training of teaching assistants draws on eighteen case studies to illustrate the critical role writing plays in overcoming graduate student resistance to instruction facilitating change and developing professional identity sally barr ebest argues that teaching assistants in english must be actively engaged in the theory and practice underlying composition pedagogy in order to better understand how to alter the way they teach and why such change is necessary in illustrating the potential for change when the paradigm shift in composition is applied to graduate education ebest considers recent discussions of composition pedagogy post secondary teaching theories cognitive social cognitive and educational psychology and issues of gender voice and writing stemming from research conducted over a five year period this volume explores how a cross section of teaching assistants responded to pedagogy as students and how of pedagogy affected their performance as instructors investigating reasons behind manifestations of resistance and necessary elements for overcoming it ebest finds that engagement in composition strategies reflective writing journaling drafting and active learning and restoration of feelings of self efficacy are the primary factors that facilitate change concerned with gender as it relates to personal construct changing the way we teach traces the influence of familial expectations and the effects of literacy experiences on students and draws correlations between feminist and composition pedagogy ebest asserts that the phenomena contributing to the development of a strong unified voice in women self knowledge empathy positive role models and mentors should be essential elements of a constructivist graduate curriculum to understand composition pedagogy and to convince students of its values ebest holds that educators must embrace it themselves and trace the effects through active research by providing graduate students with pedagogical sites for research and reflection faculty enable them to express their anger or fear study its sources and quite often write their way to a new understanding
