east asian corporations differ from their counterparts in other countries in important ways before the recent financial crisis these differences were viewed as one of the reasons for the success of east asian economies the crisis altered that view and many scholars now argue that the weak corporate governance and financing structures of east asian corporations are partly to blame for the recent crisis this paper reviews several features of east asian corporations showing that they have high leverage and concentrated ownership are typically affiliated with business groups and operate in multiple industries these characteristics affected the performance of corporations prior to the crisis as well as their ability to deal with its aftermath each economy s level of development also affected how these characteristics interacted with firm performance and valuation finally the concentration of ownership in the hands of a few large families may have influenced economies institutional development deolito vistar brings a new perspective to the interpretation of the temple incident a key event in jesus life by approaching the subject not from the historical jesus point of view but from that of the authors of the gospels using composition criticism as a method vistar sensitively analyzes the four gospels accounts of the incident and shows areas of commonalities and crucial areas where the four evangelists have their own distinctive understanding of what jesus meant by his protest in the temple this book is a helpful example of the use of composition analysis in the exegesis of gospel texts it is also a helpful study of what is now generally taken for granted in gospel scholarship that the four evangelists were both historians and theologians
