focusing on the way bishops in the eleventh century used the ecclesiastical tithe church taxes to develop or re order ties of loyalty and dependence within their dioceses this book offers a new perspective on episcopacy in medieval germany and italy using three broad case studies from the dioceses of mainz salzburg and lucca in tuscany john eldevik places the social dynamics of collecting the church tithe within current debates about religious reform social change and the so called feudal revolution in the eleventh century and analyses a key economic institution the medieval tithe as a social and political phenomenon by examining episcopal churches and their possessions not in institutional terms but as social networks which bishops were obliged to negotiate and construct over time using legal historiographical and interpersonal means this comparative study casts fresh light on the history of early medieval society the refreshed insights into early imperial roman historiography this book offers are linked to a recent discovery in the spring of 2014 the binders of the archive of robert marichal were dusted off by the erc funded project platinum erc stg 2014 n 636983 in response to tiziano dorandi s recollections of a series of unpublished notes on latin texts on papyrus among these was an in progress edition of the latin rolls from herculaneum together with marichal s intuition that one of them had to be ascribed to a certain annaeus seneca platinum followed the unpublished intuition by robert marichal as one path of investigation in its own research and work working on the latin p herc 1067 led to confirm marichal s intuitions and to go beyond it p herc 1067 is the only extant direct witness to seneca the elder s historiae bringing a new and important chapter of latin literature arise out of a charred papyrus is significant the present volume is made up of two complementary sections each of which contains seven contributions they are in close dialogue with each other as looking at the same literary matter from several points of view yields undeniable advantages and represents an innovative and fruitful step in latin literary criticism these two sections express the two different but interlinked axes along which the contributions were developed on one side the focus is on the starting point of the debate namely the discovery of the papyrus roll transmitting the historiae of seneca the elder and how such a discovery can be integrated with prior knowledge about this historiographical work on the other side there is a broader view on early imperial roman historiography to which the new perspectives opened by the rediscovery of seneca the elder s historiae greatly contribute in 1563 the council of trent published its decrees calling for significant reforms of the catholic church in response to criticism from both protestants and catholics alike bishops according to the decrees would take the lead in implementing these reforms they were tasked with creating a church in which priests and laity were well educated morally upright and focused on worshipping god unfortunately for these bishops the decrees provided few practical suggestions for achieving the wide ranging changes demanded reform was therefore an arduous and complex process which many bishops struggled to accomplish or even refused to undertake fully the bishop s burden argues that reforming bishops were forced to be creative and resourceful to accomplish meaningful change including creating strong diocesan governments reforming clerical and lay behavior educating priests and parishioners and converting non believers the book explores this issue through a detailed case study of the episcopacy of cardinal bishop gregorio barbarigo of padua bp 1664 1697 asking how a dedicated bishop formulated a reform program that sought to achieve the church's goals barbarigo like other reforming bishops borrowed strategies from a variety of sources in the absence of clear guidance from rome he looked to both pre and post tridentine bishops the society of jesus the venetian government and the propaganda fide which he selectively emulated to address the problems he discovered in padua the book is based primarily on the detailed records of barbarigo's visitations of rural parishes and captures the rarely heard voices of seventeenth century italian peasants the bishop's burden helps us understand not only the changes experienced by early modern catholics but also how even the most sophisticated plans of central authorities could be frustrated by practical realities which in turn complicates our understanding of state building and social control
