The Painting of Modern Life 1985 from t j clark comes this provocative study of the origins of modern art in the painting of parisian life by edouard manet and his followers the paris of the 1860s and 1870s was a brand new city recently adorned with boulevards cafes parks great exhibitions and suburban pleasure grounds the birthplace of the habits of commerce and leisure that we ourselves know as modern life a new kind of culture quickly developed in this remade metropolis sights and spectacles avidly appropriated by a new kind of consumer clerks and shopgirls neither working class nor bourgeois inventing their own social position in a system profoundly altered by their very existence emancipated and rootless these men and women flocked to the bars and nightclubs of paris went boating on the seine at argenteuil strolled the island of la grande jatte enacting a charade of community that was to be captured and scrutinized by manet degas and seurat it is clark s cogently argued and profusely illustrated thesis that modern art emerged from these painters attempts to represent this new city and its inhabitants concentrating on three of manet s greatest works and seurat s masterpiece clark traces the appearance and development of the artists favorite themes and subjects and the technical innovations that they employed to depict a way of life which under its liberated pleasure seeking surface was often awkward and anxious through their paintings manet and the impressionists ask us and force us to ask ourselves is the freedom offered by modernity a myth is modern life heroic or monotonous glittering or tawdry spectacular or dull the painting of modern life illuminates for us the ways both forceful and subtle in which manet and his followers raised these questions and doubts which are as valid for our time as for the age they portrayed

Anthropology and Modern Life 2021-03-28 franz boas 1858 1942 is widely regarded as the founder of american anthropology he influenced an astonishing variety of scholars and researchers from the anthropologists margaret mead and ruth benedict to the philosopher w e b dubois and novelist zora neale hurston towards the end of his life he also lectured widely in an attempt to educate the public on the dangers of nazi ideology anthropology and modern life demonstrates the incredibly rich and fertile range of boas s thought engaging with controversies that resonate loudly today the problem of race and racial types heredity versus environment the significance of intelligence tests open versus closed societies the nature versus nurture debate and nationality and nationalism believing passionately that science should be used to break down racial and cultural barriers from the book s very opening boas shatters the myth that anthropology is simply a collection of curious facts about exotic peoples thanks to boas s influence anthropologists and other social scientists began to see that differences among the races resulted not from physiological factors but from historical events and circumstances and that race itself was a cultural construct this routledge classics edition includes a new foreword by regina darnell and an introduction and afterword by herbert s lewis who details franz boas s life influence and ideals in writing the present book i desired to show that some of the most firmly rooted opinions of our times appear from a wider point of view as prejudices and that a knowledge of anthropology enables us to look with greater freedom at the problems confronting our civilization franz boas anthropology and modern life

Cēzanne, Murder, and Modern Life 2013 cézanne murder and modern life changes the way we think about and see cézanne s entire oeuvre dombrowski s arguments are convincing and bold especially on the theme of murder as a vehicle for representation modern olympia has never before been so satisfactorily analyzed susan sidlauskus rutgers university author of cezanne s other the portraits of hortense exciting and intelligent cézanne murder and modern life will be important for modernists and essential for scholars of cézanne early impressionism and painting in the 1860s dombrowski shows us a cézanne we did not know nancy locke author of manet and the family romance

Edith Wharton The Dover Reader 2019-03-13 human nature holds the intelligence of life it provides a psychology that is much stronger more effective and more reliable than the psychology society teaches us this psychology taps into the evolutionary survival experience of our species which occupied most of human history it was the period when the species evolved and our ancestor survived as a hunter and gatherer more than 99 of human history is encoded in the dna of our genes and lastingly etched into the human psyche our natural psychology the human psyche is the result of evolutionary adaptation the psyche provides the genetic capacity for behavioral mental and spiritual adaptation it supports the gratification of our needs and it contains the blueprint of human life the book is about human nature and human survival human nature that is the human psyche has survival value the book introduces a metapsychology that refers to the jungian archetypes and the survival capabilities inherent in the psyche like all living organisms and forms of life we possess an innate capacity for survival by awakening this evolutionary intelligence we gain access to the primordial power and wisdom of the archetypal psyche this innate psychology transcends the cultural conditioning that has shaped us all and erects an entirely different reference system making us look at life in a new way we live in a world that reflects human nature and we are well equipped to survive in it beyond that there is also something in us that resonates with a larger context our psychological constitution relates us to the outer realities of nature and cosmos it is in this sense that we partake in the evolution of life on this planet and in the larger design of a cosmic universe this primary psyche is shared by all humanity as part of a common biological and psychological history
