after the modernist literary experiments of her earlier work virginia woolf became increasingly concerned with overt social and political commentary in her later writings which are preoccupied with dissecting the links between patriarchy patriotism imperialism and war this book unravels the complex textual histories of the years 1937 three guineas 1938 and between the acts 1941 to expose the genesis and evolution of virginia woolf's late cultural criticism fusing a feminist historicist approach with the practices and principles of genetic criticism this innovative study scrutinizes a range of holograph typescript and proof documents within their historical context to uncover the writing and thinking processes that produced woolf's cultural analysis during 1931-1941 by demonstrating that woolf's late cultural criticism developed through her literary experimentalism as well as in response to contemporary social political and economic upheavals this book offers a fresh perspective on her emergence as a cultural commentator in her final decade and paves the way for further genetic enquiries in the field

examines zoroastrian exegesis by investigating a late antique translation of an ancient iranian text challenges the view that considers the study of the zand an auxiliary science to avestan studies views the zand of the yh as a text in its own right and investigates it within the wider pahlavi literature reconsiders the so-called glosses in the zand for the first time as an integral part of the text offers a variorum edition of the middle persian text refusing to establish an urtext in late antiquity zoroastrian exegetes set out to translate their ancient canonical texts into middle persian the vernacular of their time although undated these translations commonly known as the zand are often associated with the sasanian era 224-651 ce despite the many challenges the zand offers to us today it is indispensable for investigations of late antique exegesis of the avesta a collection of religious and ritual texts commonly regarded as the zoroastrians' scripture arash zeini also offers a fresh edition of the middle persian version of the avestan yasna haptaa ha iti a ritual text composed in the old iranian language of avestan commonly dated to the middle of the second millennium bce zeini challenges the view that considers the zand's study an auxiliary science to avestan studies framing the text instead within the exegetical context from which it emerged

this book examines the ways in which our ideas about language and identity which used to be framed in national and political terms as a matter of rights and citizenship are increasingly recast in economic terms as a matter of added value it argues that this discursive shift is connected to specific characteristics of the globalized new economy in what can be thought of as late capitalism through ten ethnographic case studies it demonstrates the complex ways in which older nationalist ideologies which invest language with value as a source of pride get bound up with newer neoliberal ideologies which invest language with value as a source of profit the complex interaction between these modes of mobilizing linguistic resources challenges some of our ideas about globalization hinting that we are in a period of intensification of modernity in which the limits of the nation state are stretched but not yet undone at the same time this book argues this intensification also calls into question modernist ways of looking at language and identity requiring a more serious engagement with capitalism and how it constitutes symbolic including linguistic as well as material markets

Language in Late Capitalism 2012-04-23 to understand the past we necessarily group people together and consequently frequently assume that all of its members share the same attributes in this ground breaking volume eric rebillard and jörg rüpke bring renowned scholars together to challenge this norm by seeking to rediscover the individual and to explore the dynamics between individuals and the groups to which they belong

this book focuses on a simple dynamic the taking in hand of a heritage the variety of changes induced within it and the handing on of that legacy to new generations our contributors suggest from different standpoints that this dynamic represented the essence of late antiquity as roman society and the societies by which it was immediately bounded continued to develop through to the late sixth and early seventh centuries the interplay between what needed to be treasured and what needed to be explored became increasingly self conscious versatile and enriched by the time formerly alien peoples had established their post classical polities and islam began to stir in the east the novelties were more clearly seen if not always welcomed and one witnesses a stronger will to maintain the momentum of change of a forward reach at the same time those in a position to play now the role of heirs were well able to appreciate how suited to their needs the roman past might be but how by taking it up in their turn they were more securely defined and yet more creatively advantaged transformation is a notion apposite to essays in honour of peter brown the transformation of the classical heritage is a theme to which he has devoted and continues to devote much energy all the essays here in some way explore this notion of transformation the late antique ability to turn the past to new uses and to set its wealth of principle and insight to work in new settings to begin there is the very notion of what it meant to be roman and how that notion changed subsequent chapters suggest ways in which fundamental characteristics of roman society were given new form not least under the impact of a christian polity augustine naturally finds his place and here the emphasis is on the unfettered stance that he took in the face of more broadly held convictions on miracles for example and the errors of the pagan past the discussion then moves on to

surveying the full breadth of j m coetzee s career as both academic and novelist this book argues for the necessity of rethinking his profound indebtedness to literary modernism in terms of a politics of life isolating a particular strain of late modernism epitomised by kafka and beckett farrant claims that coetzee s writings consistently demonstrate an agonistic engagement with the concept of life that involves an entanglement of politics and ethics which supersedes the singular theoretical frameworks often applied to coetzee such as postcolonialism posthumanism and animal studies running throughout his engagement with questions of modernity and colonialism storytelling and life writing human and non human life religion and post enlightenment subjectivity coetzee s politics of life yield a new literary cosmopolitanism for the twenty first century a powerful commentary on our interrelatedness that emphasises finitude and contingency as fundamental to the way we live together
