Socrates, Buddha, Confucius, Jesus 2011-06-01 2011 reprint of 1962 edition full facsimile of the original edition not reproduced with optical recognition software of all the great minds that have influenced contemporary thought these four have had the most profound and lasting impact jaspers here provides much insight into these four paradigmatic figures who taught us how to live as well as how to think the reader will see them as both individual personalities and seminal philosophers of vital importance to this day

Socrates, Buddha, Confucius, Jesus 1997-07-01 reflecting on the legacy of four great religious figures this book places each in their historical context offers glimpses of what they were like personally assesses how they saved their followers from confusion and traces each religious tradition after its founder s death

In the Path of the Masters 2015-05-20 a fascinating look at the founders of the world s main religions the major religious traditions of the world owe their existence to the vision of an ancient founder this important volume explores the lives of the five founders of major world religions moses buddha confucius jesus and muhammad chronicling what is actually known of these charismatic men and introducing readers to the cultural and religious worlds that heard their messages readers in predominantly christian lands in addition to learning about the lives of confucius buddha and muhammad whom they might not be familiar with will also be introduced to modern research now casting fresh light on the careers of moses and jesus whether studied individually or in comparison with one another these biographies together with a chapter on the characteristics of religious leadership chart the spiritual rivers that continue to feed the diversity of religious expression today

Socrates, Buddha, Confucius, Jesus, the Paradigmatic Individuals 1966 to understand the position of christianity in china today one must review and assess the long sweep of the history over thirteen hundred years of the christian faith in china confucius the buddha and christ does that and addresses the essential question of why christianity over all those centuries has remained foreign to the chinese why it has remained an outsider never able really to enter the warp and woof of chinese life dr covell s book details and analyzes the history of nestorians catholics and protestants who in various eras have tried unsuccessfully to knit christianity into the fabric of chinese culture he argues that christianity s failure to become chines has two roots its foreign connections and its foreign message works have been written to address the history of one or another of the waves of missionary activity in china this book is unique in that it puts together and assesses the core of christianity its message and form in its varied contexts over more than a millennium of chinese history what was preached how why did it fail also studied here is the only major attempt to christianize china from within the taiping movement in the mid nineteenth century confucius the buddha and christ is a thoroughly documented in depth case study of contextualization the most significant theme in contemporary world mission studies it is deceptive not prescriptive its historical perspective opens the door to the only way that other christians can wisely relate to chinese christianity whether in the people s republic or in the worldwide chinese diaspora

Confucius, Buddha, Jesus, and Muhammad 2010 a part of jaspers s planned universal history of philosophy focusing on the four paradigmatic individuals who have exerted a historical influence of incomparable scope and depth edited by hannah arendt index translated by ralph manheim

The Rivers of Paradise 2001 confucius the buddha jesus and muhammad are among the most thoughtful and influential people in history by their words and examples they have inspired countless individuals to live better and more meaningful lives and have shaped the institutions and worldviews we know today four wise men is an accessible introduction to each of these sages viewed in their historical context and a provocative comparison of their lives and teachings through careful study four wise men examines the waysthesefascinating figures speak as one as well as the ways in which they differ although their voices come from the distant past these men still have wise words to say to us today

Confucius, the Buddha, and Christ 2004-01-20 was jesus just a spiritual leader like buddha krishna confucius and muhammad or is he something more something else entirely in god among sages apologist ken samples offers readers a biblical and historical portrait of jesus grounded in the claims jesus makes about himself then samples compares and contrasts jesus with buddha krishna confucius and muhammad using eight relevant categories of evaluation he also helps readers understand the competing philosophies of religious pluralism inclusivism and exclusivism the result is a clearer understanding of what sets jesus apart as not simply a teacher to follow but god himself worthy of our full allegiance and worship christians who struggle to answer claims that jesus was just a good teacher as well as those haven t quite made up their minds about jesus s claims to divinity will value this accessible introduction to comparative religions

Socrates, Buddha, Confucius, Jesus 1966-03 mediators is macquarrie s term for that handful of outstanding human beings who inspired the world s great religions he provides lucid and readable portraits of 9 outstanding spiritual geniuses whose visions of god have been and still are among the most powerful factors shaping the lives of billions of people not only in religion but in morals politics culture virtually everything that constitutes human existence the 9 are moses zoroaster lao zu buddha confucius socrates krishna jesus and muhammad in each case macquarrie describes a historical figure who had a special relation to god or to holy being and who left a body of scripture

Four Wise Men 2018-01-25 this book contains fourteen chapters divided by topic with an introduction to each by the editor the sayings attributed to the four spiritual masters are arranged side by side over two pages the book also contains a wealth of photographs an appendix and a general introduction

Founders of Faith 1986 described as unique and a great service to understanding this book is intended for three groups western buddhists that bulk of the west that have no religious affiliation yet know there is something more to life and buddhists in asia who follow the encounter of the dharma with the west it highlights the pervasive similarities in the teachings of jesus and the buddha as they were probably originally presented in its six chapters and appendix it compares the two great teachers the buddha and jesus briefly charts the process by which experts have produced words readily attributed to jesus and presents a buddhist imitation of these words based on the hypothetical sayings of jesus it then considers congruence between the buddha s and jesus teachings before offering both buddhist and christian interpretations an appendix re presents the buddhist imitation of jesus words as a continuous text dr falvey introduces his work jesus speaking the buddha s words exudes audacity and ignorance yet this work essentially wrote itself as a product of my socialization a modicum of christian theological study and its explication through three decades of casual association with thai buddhism differences between the two traditions such as christianity relying on a god while buddhism denies the existence of a god proved themselves facile upon consideration of the metaphorical intent of teachings of both traditions

The Great Philosophers 1957 this book teaches how to be happy and successful though the golden rule and other teachings topics include success the secret of happiness the golden rule do unto others as you would have others do unto you choosing good deeds instead of evil having good health not judging others loving your fellow man and others such as choosing humility instead of arrogance the author has studied the teachings of jesus buddha mohammad and socrates and their religions including christianity islam buddhism and others and has written about the similarities of all of these religions living the teachings in this book will lead you to a life of happiness peace love joy and success this book teaches how to become happy by loving your fellow man and living with compassion kindness and love for others here s a book excerpt the golden rulethe golden rule is the foundation of the message of the great religions it or some form of it is found in every major religion that exists in the world it is one of the foundations of judaism christianity islam and zoroastrianism buddhism and taoism do unto others as you would have others do unto you or treat others the way you want to be treated later in this book i will explain why this is the formula for happiness and success in addition to the golden rule there is also the silver rule which states the golden rule in the negative do not do unto others what you don t want to have done unto you here is the golden rule and the silver rule as they appear in all the world s major religions do unto others as you would have them do unto you christianity hurt not others in ways that you yourself would find hurtful buddhism harm no other beings they are just your brothers and sisters buddhism regard your neighbor s gain as your own gain and your neighbor s loss as your own loss taoism what is hateful to you do not do unto your fellow man that is the entire law all the rest is commentary judaism this is the sum of duty do naught unto others that which would cause you pain if done unto you brahman a man should wander about treating all creatures in the world as he himself would be treated jainism men gifted with intelligence and purified souls should always treat others as they themselves wish to be treated hindu mahabharatasurely it is the maxim of loving kindness do not do unto others what you would not want to have done unto you confucianismone should never do wrong in return nor mistreat any man no matter how one has been mistreated by him plato s socrates the seven word expression you shall love your neighbor as yourself appears seven times in the bible that nature alone is good which refrains from doing unto another whatsoever is not good for itself zoroastrianism if your eyes be inclined to justice choose for your neighbor that which you would choose for yourself baha i faithdo unto all men as you would wish to have done unto you and reject for others what you would reject for yourself islamdo good to others as you would like good to be done to you islam philosophers have been speculating on the rules of human relationships for thousands of years and out of all that speculation there has evolved only one important precept it is not new it is as old as history zoroaster taught it to his followers in persia twenty five hundred years ago confucius preached it in china twenty four centuries ago lao tsu the founder of taoism taught it to his disciples in the valley of the han buddha preached it on the bank of the holy ganges five hundred years before christ the sacred books of hinduism taught it a thousand years before that jesus taught it among the stony hills of judea nineteen centuries ago he summed it up in one thought probably the most important rule in the world do unto others as you would have others do unto you

Socrates, Boeddha, Confucius, Jezus 1960 religious controversies frequently focus on origins and at the origins of the major religious traditions one typically finds a seminal figure names such as jesus muhammad confucius and moses are well known yet their status as founders has not gone uncontested the aim of this book is to consider the subtexts of debates about these founders as an exercise in comparative religion as the contributors survey the landscape shaped by questions within each tradition they provide an opportunity to map their contours from a novel perspective

Jesus, Buddha, Krishna, Lao Tzu 2007 buddhism began and flourished half a millennium before jesus was ever born five hundred years is a long time for a religion to grow so jesus could have easily been influenced by buddhist teachings as proposed by this book there were many years in the life of jesus that remain unaccounted for goddard reveals evidence that the essenes of whom jesus had contact with and may have been a member himself had strong buddhist influences reveals that the parallels between jesus and the buddha are more than just a coincidence

The Buddha's Gospel 2002 presenting a comprehensive portrayal of the reading of chinese and buddhist philosophy in early twentieth century german thought chinese and buddhist philosophy in early twentieth century german thought examines the implications of these readings for contemporary issues in comparative and intercultural philosophy through a series of case studies from the late 19th century and early 20th century eric nelson focuses on the reception and uses of confucianism daoism and buddhism in german philosophy covering figures as diverse as buber heidegger and misch he argues that the growing intertextuality between traditions cannot be appropriately interpreted through notions of exclusive identities closed horizons or unitary traditions providing an account of the context motivations and hermeneutical strategies of early twentieth century european thinkers interpretation of asian philosophy nelson also throws new light on the question of the relation between heidegger and asian philosophy reflecting the growing interest in the possibility of intercultural and global philosophy chinese and buddhist philosophy in early twentieth century german thought opens up the possibility of a more inclusive intercultural conception of philosophy
