isabella d'Este marchioness of Mantua 1474-1539 is one of the most studied figures of Renaissance Italy as an epitome of Renaissance court culture and as a woman having an unusually prominent role in the politics of her day. This biography provides a well-rounded account of the full range of her activities and interests from her childhood to her final years as a dowager and considers Isabella d'Este not as an icon but as a woman of her time and place in the world. It covers all aspects of her life including her relationship with her parents and siblings as well as with her husband and children, her interest in literature and music, painting and antiquities, her political and diplomatic activities, her concern with fashion and jewellery, her relations with other women and her love of travel. In this book grounded in an understanding of the context of the Italy of her day, the typical interests and behaviour of women of Isabella d'Este's status within Renaissance Italy are distinguished from those that were unique to her, such as the elaborate apartments that she created for herself and her extensive surviving correspondence which provides insights into all aspects of life in the major courts of northern Italy. Centres of Renaissance culture providing fresh perspectives on one of the most famous figures of Renaissance Italy, Isabella d'Este will be of great interest to undergraduates and graduates of early modern history, gender studies, Renaissance studies and art history.

Giordano Bruno 1548-1600 who died at the stake is one of the best known symbols of anti-establishment thought. The theme of this volume, which is offered as a collection of essays to honour the distinguished Bruno scholar Hilary Gatti, reflects her constant concern for the principles of cultural freedom and independent thinking. Several essays deal with Bruno himself, including an analysis of the Eroici Furori, a study of his reception in relation to the group known as the Novatores, and discussions of several important aspects of his stay in England. The authors and texts discussed here are linked by a relentless interest in the question of authority and originality and they range from literary figures such as Alberti (1404-72) and Vasari (1511-74) and the proponents of quantitative verse in sixteenth-century England to controversial philosophers who like Bruno were condemned by the Church, such as Tommaso Campanella (1568-1639) and Giulio Cesare Vanini (1585-1619). Taken together, these chapters show how much that was new and revolutionary in early modern culture came from its confrontation with the past.
