michael stanislavski's provocative study of max nordau ephraim moses lilien and vladimir jabotinsky reconceives the intersection of the european fin de siècle and early zionism stanislavski takes up the tantalizing question of why zionism at a particular stage in its development became so attractive to certain cosmopolitan intellectuals and artists with the help of hundreds of previously unavailable documents published and unpublished he reconstructs the ideological journeys of writer and critic nordau artist lilien and political icon jabotinsky he argues against the common conception of nordau and jabotinsky as nineteenth century liberals insisting that they must be understood against the backdrop of social darwinism in the west and the positivism of russian radicalism in the fin de siècle as well as symbolism decadence and art nouveau when these men turned to zionism stanislavski says far from abandoning their aesthetic and intellectual preconceptions they molded zionism according to their fin de siècle cosmopolitanism showing how cosmopolitanism turned to nationalism in the lives and work of these crucial early zionists this story is a fascinating chapter in european and russian as well as jewish cultural and political history
