reporting on immigrant issues how sensationalism may be deepening the chasm of misunderstanding between the races how the coverage of america s drug wars has been marked by racism and whether politically correct language is interfering with coverage of vital issues and problems the contributors of the media in black and white hope to broaden the narrow vision of the united states and the world beyond with their contributions to the debate over race and the media the commentary found hi this important work will be of interest to sociologists communication specialists and black studies scholars jacob riis was a danish born photojournalist who used his camera to draw attention to the plight of the poor mental health professionals minorities and the poor provides mental health professionals with information essential to the accurate assessment and effective treatment of diver populations compilation of reports on specific schools industry schools sunday schools and endowed schools together with a long essay on the general education of the poor by thomas bernard and reports on the education of the poor in ireland and in scotland as the end of the century draws closer one of the most pressing challenges facing educators in the united states is the specter of an ethnic and cultural war a code phrase that engenders our society s licentiousness toward racism in dancing with bigotry macedo and bartolomé use examples from the mass media popular culture and politics to illustrate the larger situations facing educators and how this type of argument is both ignored in much of the academic research and rhetoric they also examine why it is essential to take on the sources of mass public education academia needs to understand that the popular press and mass media educate more people about issues regarding ethnicity and race than all other sources of education available to u s citizens by shunning the mass media educators are missing the obvious more public education is done by the media than by teachers professors or anyone else dancing with bigotry sheds light on the ideological mechanisms that shape and maintain the racist social order while moving the discussion beyond the reductionist binarism of white versus black racism discussing social complexities including ethnic cleansing culture wars hegemony human sufferings and intensified xenophobia macedo and bartolomé explain why it is essential that we gain a nuanced understanding of how ideology underlies all social cultural and political discourse and actions this book shows that it is imperative that we appreciate what it means to educate for critical citizenry in the ever increasing multiracial and multicultural world of the twentieth century editors birnbaum writer and taylor history florida international u have gathered an impressive array of documentary materials from a variety of sources including excerpts from books and articles and recent newspaper articles their material divided into the broad categories of slavery reconstruction segregation the second reconstruction backlash redux and towards a third reconstruction traces the ongoing black struggle for civil mission abomaly the disembodied personality with whom we interfaced to obtain these information is essentially the main voice of this text he was himself a former mortal from another inhabited sphere thousands of years prior to his present status as an ascended master jeroes s scope is wide she examines the teacher as represented in fiction and film in works ranging from the twelfth century letters of abelard and heloise to contemporary films such as dangerous minds and educating rita and from the twelfth through the twentieth century keroes shows the teaching encounter is essentially erotic tracing the roots of eros from cultural as well as psychological perspectives keroes defines erotic in terms broader than the merely sexual she analyzes ways in which teachers serve as convenient figures on whom to map conflicts about gender power and desire to show how portrayals of men and women differ she examines pairs of texts using a film or a novel with a woman protagonist up the down staircase for example as counterpoint to one featuring a male teacher blackboard jungle or the prime of miss jean brodie balanced against dead poets society the portrayals of teachers like all images a culture presents of itself reveal much about our private and social selves keroes points out authentic accounts of authoritative women teachers who are admired and respected by colleagues and students alike real teachers differ from the stereotypes we see in fiction and film however male teachers are often portrayed as heroes in film and fallibly human in fiction whereas women in either genre are likely to be monstrous or muddled and are virtually never women of color among other things keroes demonstrates the tension between reality and representation reveals society s ambivalence about power in the hands of women this indispensable resource provides a flexible framework and a wealth of engaging tools for teaching mindfulness to children and adolescents with varying
