this accompaniment to taylor s documentary film of the same name which premiered at the toronto international film festival in 2008 is a peripatetic effort to bring philosophy to the streets taylor speaks with today s most influential thinkers in settings that give meaning and inspiration to the discussions most notable are peter singer s thoughts on ethics and consumption in the middle of busy fifth avenue michael hardt s talk of revolution in a rowboat in central park and slavoj zizek strolling through a garbage dump while criticizing environmentalism there are also appearances by cornel west avital ronell kwame anthony appiah martha nussbaum and judith butler both the book and the film attempt to make philosophy approachable and the majority of the discussions here do just that taylor for better or worse refrains from any overarching theme or commentary although her interactions with these thinkers do go beyond mere interviews to productive philosophical debates as in life in the end it is the walks and the fruitful conversations that are important recommended for public libraries look for the dvd review in a future issue ed steven chabot ontario ministry of labour as we are all future patients and future caregivers of a loved one this text explores the autobiographical testimonies of six 20th century women authors whose writings employ narratives of scriptotherapy in order to heal the wounds of psychological trauma this psychoanalytic study focuses on the sexual textual inscription of traumatic narrative as the focal point of a large body of autobiographical practice representing the genre of narrative recovery the literary testimonies of colette hilda doolittle anais nin audre lorde janet frame and sylvia fraser provide evidence of post traumatic stress disorder precipitated by rape incest childhood sexual abuse unwanted pregnancy pregnancy loss or a severe illness that threatens the integrity of the body the compelling writings produced by these experiences are examined for their patterns of similarity and their points of uniqueness the book suggests that the powerful medium of written autobiographical testimony may make the resolution or reconfiguration of the most emotionally distressing experiences possible the autobiography of t sean casey a man who has always had an inquiring mind open to new horizons and ways of understanding this world and the worlds beyond a life long poet explorer workshop and ceremonial leader therapist artist and dreamer he has often followed the path that others would avoid his examined life is an inspiration for all this lively and concise supplemental text uses analyses of everyday conversations and experiences to inspire students to think sociologically about society and about themselves as social actors who are we how should we live professor james miller introduces twelve great philosophers who dedicated their lives to answering these questions from plato who risked his reputation to tutor a tyrant to seneca the philosopher of temperance who accumulated one of the greatest fortunes in rome to kant who privately wrestled with hypochondria while publicly advocating arch rationality each had a unique approach to examining life here is a fascinating insight into the ideals that have guided us for centuries and those who have fought passionately to live up to them while the usual introductory sociology text emphasizes defining key concepts in the field the rigidity of this structure creates a need for a text that teaches real world application of these concepts the sociologically examined life pieces of the conversation prides itself on being an anti text a tool that demonstrates how to recognize and utilize sociological thinking in the real world the conversational writing encourages discussion and debate over ideas that are provocative and personal and pushes students to think critically about what makes them feel the way they do the sociologically examined life draws from examples that are culturally relevant to today's students and encourages students to apply sociological thinking to their everyday lives and to reflect on their own roles as active players in the social world a humorous novel about a private eye living an uneventful life in brighton until normality gives way to a kind of mad logic frank a private eye in brighton is the perfect lodger neat quiet and solitary a decent man leading an uneventful life then his neighbour announces she's pregnant his landlady's budgie is strangled his boss retires to a sauna his client's wife is murdered the client himself drowns and his client's sister dies in a fall from a high cliff path as frank's world tightens into a circle of chaos and death he seeks escape but will this be the catalyst he needs or just another step towards the total collapse of his life first published in 2002 routledge is an imprint of taylor francis an informa company the most complete consideration of all the major writings of margaret laurence drew a hyland one of continental philosophy's keenest interpreters of plato takes up the question of beauty in three platonic dialogues the hippias major symposium and phaedrus what plato meant by beauty is not easily characterized and hyland's close readings show that plato ultimately gives up on the possibility of a definition plato's failure however tells us something important about beauty that it cannot be reduced to logos exploring questions surrounding love memory and ideal form hyland draws out the connections between beauty the possibility of philosophy and philosophical living this new reading of plato provides a serious investigation into the meaning of beauty and places it at the very heart of philosophy the first comprehensive work on nonfiction as an art form shows how nonfiction especially how to and self help can take on the same power and luminosity as great fiction develops processes to reliably induce the dreaming state from which all writing comes teaches the skill of analogical thinking that is the core perceptual tool for writers explores the subtle techniques of powerful writing from inducing associational dreaming in the reader to language symmetry sound patterning foreshadowing feeling flow and more approaching writing as a sacred art stephen buhner explores the core of the craft the communication of deep meaning that feeds not just the mind but also the soul of the reader tapping into the powerful archetypes within language he shows how to enrich your writing by following golden threads of inspiration while understanding the crucial invisibles essential to the art of both fiction and nonfiction how to craft language with feeling and vision employ altered states of mind to access the writing trance clear your work by recognizing the powerful sway of clichéd thinking and hidden baggage and intentionally generate duende that physical emotional response to art that gives you chills opens up unrecognized aspects of reality or simply resonates in your soul covering some very practical aspects of writing such as layering and word symmetry the author also explores the inner world of publishing what you really will encounter when you become a writer he then shows how to develop a powerful and engaging book proposal based on understanding the proposal as a work of fiction the map is never the territory nor is the proposal the book that it will become this book written using all the techniques discussed within it offers a powerful experiential journey into the heart of writing it does for nonfiction what john gardner s books on writing did for fiction it is one of the most significant works on writing published in our time shows users how the keys to success in higher education are also the keys to success in life conversely this text shows how the same academic and personal skills for college success will also ensure their success in their professional careers and personal lives diploma thesis from the year 2023 in the subject philosophy philosophy of the present language english abstract this dissertation aims to
