Calendar of State Papers 1864 many critics have approached terrence malick's work from a philosophical perspective arguing that his films express philosophy through cinema with their remarkable images of nature poetic voiceovers and meditative reflections malick's cinema certainly invites philosophical engagement in terrence malick filmmaker and philosopher robert sinnerbrink takes a different approach exploring malick's work as a case of cinematic ethics films that evoke varieties of ethical experience encompassing existential metaphysical and religious perspectives malick's films are not reducible to a particular moral position or philosophical doctrine rather they solicit ethically significant forms of experience encompassing anxiety and doubt wonder and awe to questioning and acknowledgment through aesthetic engagement and poetic reflection drawing on a range of thinkers and approaches from heidegger and cavell nietzsche and kierkegaard to phenomenology and moral psychology sinnerbrink explores how malick's films respond to the problem of nihilism the loss of conviction or belief in prevailing forms of value and meaning and the possibility of ethical transformation through cinema from self transformation in our relations with others to cultural transformation via our attitudes towards nature and the world sinnerbrink shows how malick's later films from the tree of life to voyage of time provide unique opportunities to explore cinematic ethics in relation to the crisis of belief the phenomenology of love and film's potential to invite moral transformation

United States Government Publications Monthly Catalog 1946 this book illustrates the limits to the 1990s untac peacekeeping intervention in cambodia and raises a critical challenge to the assumptions underpinning key tenets of the liberal project as a mechanism for resolving complex severe struggles for elite political power in developing countries the book highlights the limitations of externally imposed power sharing in the case of cambodia the imagined effect was a coalition that would share power democratically however this approach was appropriate only for resolving the superpower conflict that had created cambodia's war rather than bringing long term peace to cambodia roberts argues it created the temporary illusion of a democratic system that in fact recreated the military conflict and housed it in a superficial coalition the book challenges assumptions regarding the inevitability of the globalization of liberalism as a means of ordering non western societies it explains the failure of democratic transition in terms of the impropriety and weakness of the plan which preceded it and in terms of the elite's traditional reliance on absolutism and resistance to the concept of opposition

The Law Times 1864 the objective of the oxford handbook of migration crises is to deconstruct question and redefine through a critical lens what is commonly understood as migration crises the volume covers a wide range of historical economic social political and environmental conditions that generate migration crises around the globe at the same time it illuminates how the media and public officials play a major role in framing migratory flows as crises the volume brings together an exceptional group of scholars from around the world to critically examine migration crises and to revisit the notion of crisis through the context in which permanent and non permanent migration flows occur the oxford handbook of migration crises offers an understanding of individuals in societies socio economic structures and group processes focusing on migrants departures and arrivals in all continents this comprehensive handbook explores the social dynamics of migration crises with an emphasis on factors that propel these flows as well as the actors that play a role in classifying them and in addressing them the volume is organized into nine sections the first section provides a historical overview of the link between migration and crises the second looks at how migration crises are constructed while the third section contextualizes the causes and effects of protracted conflicts in producing crises the fourth focuses on the role of climate and the environment in generating migration crises while the fifth section examines these migratory flows in migration corridors and transit countries the sixth section looks at policy responses to migratory flows the last three sections look at the role media and visual culture gender and immigrant incorporation play in migration crises

Constructing a Security Community in Southeast Asia 2014-03-26 despite regionalism having developed into a global phenomenon the european union eu is still more often than not presented as the role model of regionalism whose institutional designs and norms are adopted by other regional actors and organizations as part of a rather passive downloading process reaching beyond such a eurocentric perception mapping agency provides an empirically rich african perspective on regionalisms in sub saharan africa it adopts an actor centred approach but departs from a rather simplified understanding of agency as exerting power and instead scrutinizes to what extent actors actually participate in or are excluded from processes of regionalism the value of this volume derives from the inclusion of historical dimensions its open multi actor approach to both formal and informal processes and its comparative perspective within but also beyond sub saharan africa the chapters offer a multifaceted picture of agency beyond disciplinary divides where the eu is one actor amongst many and where local national regional and global state and non state actors shape and sometimes break processes of regionalisms in sub saharan africa

Annual Report of the Commissioner of Patents 1924 the key question facing european policy makers is how to enable collective redress proceedings without producing the undesirable consequences that are associated with the u s class action model how is it possible to find the balance between providing compensation for legitimate claims and preventing unmeritorious claims if the system encourages the vast majority of claims to be settled how can it avoid the blackmail effect which means it will be cheaper for defendants to settle unmeritorious claims than to fight them how is it possible to avoid excessive transactional costs etc in this report it is considered that one of the of the important safeguards against the abuses of the u s class action system could be the active role of the court in collective redress litigation research is needed to see what concrete judicial powers are the most important in that respect this report tries to achieve this challenge the first part of the report consists in a comparative analysis of national rules and case law in six member states united kingdom england wales germany italy portugal spain and sweden to identify which powers of the court in a collective redress trial ensure fair proceedings for both parties and act as safeguards against potential abuses of the system cases have been selected to illustrate the issues that arise and some of the creative solutions that have been applied so far by the courts at each stage of a collective redress procedure the second part of this report aims at looking ahead to ways in which recommendations for an optimal balanced framework for a european collective redress mechanism would be formulated the result of the case analyses set out in this report attempts to demonstrate whether the european union might be able to introduce an attractive approach towards collective redress which builds on previous knowledge by fusing different national approaches and provides benefits to consumers competitors and the economy without harmful risks
