How Would Jesus Vote? 2010-06-23

the 2008 election is shaping up to be one of the most important political contests in american history in fact dr d james kennedy believes it will be a watershed moment that could impact our very survival as a nation under god values voters people whose political views and votes are based on their faith in god are being targeted as never before as we move forward in the campaign season the significant players will debate terrorism radical islam nuclear threats global warming social issues gay marriage immigration education health care and many other essential issues that can create sharp ideological divisions into this overwhelmingly complex political situation dr kennedy and jerry newcombe bring a clear compelling and nonpartisan exploration of what god s word has to say on these critical matters how would jesus vote isn t intended to tell you which candidates to support rather it offers you a christ centered understanding of the world to help you draw your own political conclusions this election don t cast an uninformed vote that fails to reflect your values instead learn how to apply your faith and obedience to god to your ballot this timely helpful and hopeful book will enable you to do just that we christians are not immune to the dissatisfactions others experience in their work and leisure pursuits in all likelihood our problems stem from our adherence to a secularized perspective that views work as the means to material gain with leisure a badly needed respite from work s drudgery leland ryken examines this secular view and points to the liberating perspective of the scriptures both our work and our leisure have as their overarching aim to glorify god blue collar worker or white homemaker or career woman this book will profoundly influence the attitudes and motivations you bring to your work and to your play book jacket

The Bible in World Christian Perspective 2008-11

the bible is by far the most widely translated and circulated book in the world and christianity is by far the most globally dispersed religion the christian faith can no longer be said to be a western religion the axis of influence in the world christian movement is now in the south and the east africa is home to the largest number of christians and now china where a generation ago prospects for the faith looked most unpromising represents the locus where the church is growing most rapidly theological education has also changed radically in recent years as the church has grown throughout the world new forms of equipping both clergy and laity for ministry have sprung up to meet changing needs and circumstances carl e armerding has played a major role in re shaping theological education he was a founding member of the faculty of regent college vancouver canada 1970 91 a globally influential school of theology and served as its second president 1977 88 having given leadership to the college during the period of its greatest growth and the development of its beautiful campus he invested the next decade and a half of his life in providing innovative christian higher education to a wide range of international students especially those from central and eastern europe as the director of schloss mittersill study centre austria 1991 2006 and at the oxford centre for mission studies 1991 2002 he continues to teach and to advise students associated with these three institutions along with others around the world this collection of essays by colleagues former students and friends is an expression of appreciation for the leadership he has given to christian higher education among the contributors are soo inn tan singapore gordon d fee vancouver clark h pinnock hamilton ontario james m houston vancouver michael green oxford jeffrey p greenman wheaton r paul stevens vancouver and peter shaw cb london david w baker is professor of old testament and semitic languages at ashland theological seminary ohio and is author editor or contributor to more than forty books and author of many articles and essays w ward gasque was a founding professor at regent college and served as the first e marshall sheppard professor there he is currently the english ministries pastor of richmond chinese alliance church in a fallen world politics will be a brutal at times violent sport grandstanding demonizing misleading and lying are the native language of political debate violence is historically how political conflicts are ultimately resolved this fact raises important questions about our faith should christians participate in politics and government if so how should we participate evangelism politics argues that christians should participate in politics and government but their ultimate goal in doing so is evangelism not political change the way christians participate in politics is therefore generally more important than the specific policies they advocate for in short christian participation in politics should be marked by the fruit of the spirit at the same time christians should not be naive in thinking godly engagement in politics guarantees political success ungodly tactics are effective and christians will be at a political disadvantage when they refuse to use such methods nevertheless christians should refuse to use them because they see god not the government as their ultimate protector and provider and godly engagement in politics as a way of providing an evangelistic witness to society that fulfills the great commission

this volume on cultural anthropology presents a christian perspective for bible school students of conservative evangelical backgrounds the hope is that a sympathetic approach to the problems of cultural diversity throughout the world will help young people overcome typical north american cultural biases and bring understanding and appreciation for the diversities of behavior and thought that exist in a culturally heterogeneous world grunlan and mayers take the position of functional creationism and though they discuss some of the problems implied in traditional interpretations of the age of the world and especially of the creation of the human race they do not attempt to deal with either physical anthropology or the origins of man they do however attempt to deal meaningfully with the problems posed by biblical absolutism and cultural relativism and their practice concluding chapters with a series of thought provoking questions should prove to be of real help to both the professional and nonprofessional teacher of anthropology utilizing all that is valuable in historical critical and related research dr mary ford demonstrates with force and clarity just why biblical hermeneutics needs to return to the perspectives and methods of early christian interpreters particularly those of eastern church tradition since the late middle ages biblical interpretation in western christianity has been largely guided by historical critical methodology highly useful for questions of introduction the who what when where and why of biblical writings it has nevertheless led to a serious reductionism represented most flagrantly today by members of the Jesus Seminar the indispensable link between exegesis and spiritual life has been largely obscured with the result that concern for the gospel promise of salvation has been subordinated to scientific inquiry of the text her focus is consistently on the basic question what does the soul long for she answers the question by a careful criticism of non orthodox trends in interpretation from Spinoza to contemporary exegetes and by demonstrating how a hermeneutic inspired by the church fathers can be faithful to the text while leading the reader to discover what it means to be a child of God we are greatly indebted to Professor Ford for achieving her intended goal to demonstrate that authentic and authoritative biblical interpretation is intimately related to the life of faith this important book is a treasure that will be of special interest to clergy and students of theology as well as to lay persons who experience the soul's deep longing for God fr John Breck

Christianity believes in a God who acts in history the Bible tells us the story of God's actions in Israel culminating in the ministry of Jesus of Nazareth and the spreading of the Gospel from Jerusalem to Rome the issue of history is thus unavoidable when it comes to reading the Bible volume 4 of the Scripture and Hermeneutics series looks at how history has dominated biblical studies under the guise of historical criticism this book explores ways in which different views of history influence interpretation it considers the implications of a theology of history for biblical exegesis and in several case studies it relates these insights to particular texts few topics are more central to the task of biblical interpretation than history and few books open up the subject in so illuminating and thought provoking a manner as this splendid collection of essays and responses Hugh Williamson Regius Professor of Hebrew University of Oxford England breaks new ground in its interdisciplinary examination of the methodology presuppositions practices and purposes of biblical hermeneutics with a special emphasis on the relation of faith and history Eleonore Stump Robert J Henle Professor of Philosophy Saint Louis University United States this volume homosexuality is not a recent phenomenon or a newly emerged issue it exists since the ancient time despite the suppression by tradition and culture it started to surface in recent years as technology and media have developed in racing speed the society has become more open and acceptive to the topic people started to reflect on the traditional thinking on human relationship voices and discussions regarding homosexuality are getting common the word homosexuality which merely means same sex relationship in the past has evolved to lgbtq which covers lesbians gays bisexuals transgenders and queers nowadays although there are more discussions do we truly understand lgbtq how should we discern the right and wrong from christian perspective how should see it and live with its community does the bible provide us the answer in the past when religions are confronted by issues of homosexuality and lgbtq they would quickly jump into a conclusion such as sin against the nature promiscuity unclean etc on one hand religious communities subconsciously hold different attitudes and mindsets toward lgbtq community on the other hand media coverage and celebrity influence exalt the revolution and advocacy of lgbtq so that people or religious bodies who hold different point of views may be labeled as conservative old fashioned traditional conventional etc

over time a gap has formed between lgbtq and religious communities nevertheless before we decide between the right and wrong or give people a label of unrighteousness could we jump out of the endless quarrel opposition or criticism could we adjust our perspective to understand to observe and to contemplate the matter so that we can better serve this community and walk with them with the love of christ while we hold on to the law and principle of god homosexuality faqs a christian perspective is a wonderful guide for churches it helps readers to understand the issue more comprehensively find out the viewpoints of the bible and learn how to reach out and serve lgbtq community this book clears doubts and confusions on lgbtq through 10 questions in the first section it tries to rebut general arguments from objective and scientific perspective in the second section it discusses lgbtq from biblical perspective through 16 questions lastly the editors laid out 6 questions to discuss the relation between christians and the society on lgbtq issue each answer begins with quick response to give readers the key concept then followed by elaboration and more supplementary information this structure is clear and easy to follow what i appreciate the most is that it does not merely lay out a pile of data and evidence but also shares ministry tips at the end of some answers so that readers can break through the frame of merely knowledge thinking and critique and more important they can learn how to bridge the gap between the lgbtq and us counsel and serve lgbtq community whether you want to know more the issue or feel the burden to serve the lgbtq community this book is worth to read bishop dr titus chung anglican diocese of singapore president national council of churches of singapore
