Hebrew Bible: Second Edition Marxism and 20th-Century English-Canadian Novels

Marxism and Literature 1977-01 in this book the author analyzes previous contributions to a marxist theory of literature from marx himself to lukacs althusser and goldmann and develops his own approach by outlining a theory of cultural materialism which integrates marxist theories of language with marxist theories of literature

The Politics of Literary Theory 1990 philip goldstein examines in this study the politics of a potpourri of modern criticism new critical authorial reader oriented phenomenological structuralist and poststructuralist in the process he contends that marxist and feminist criticism divide these critical approaches along political lines each position whether theoretical or practical fractured along conservative liberal and radical lines

Ideology 2014-07-21 this collection of readings on the concept of ideology is brought together by the marxist critic terry eagleton his introduction traces the historical evolution of ideology and examines in a more theoretical style the various meanings of the word and their significance the readings begin with the first english translations of some of the writing of the french founder of the concept in the eighteenth century they then move from the enlightenment to hegel and marxism with particular emphasis on marx and engels themselves they also look at other eighteenth century traditions of thought such as nietzsche and freud all the readings are theoretical rather than examples of ideology at work and will be of interest to undergraduate students of cultural politics and historical studies concerned with ideology

as students of english literature

Ideology 2024-05-14 ideology has never before been so much in evidence as a fact and so little understood as a concept as it is today in this now classic work originally written for both students and for those already familiar with the debates around the concept the celebrated literary theorist terry eagleton unravels its many definitions exploring its tortuous history from the enlightenment to the present a limpid account of the thought of key marxist thinkers as well as that of philosophers from schopenhauer and nietzsche to freud and the post structuralists and a political reformulation of a vital set of ideas ideology an introduction is an essential text by one of our most important contemporary critics

The Communist Manifesto 2002-08-27 literary theory has now become integral to how we produce literary criticism when critics write about a text they no longer think just about the biographical or historical contexts of the work but also about the different approaches that literary theory offers by making use of these they create new interpretations of the text that would not otherwise be possible in your own reading and writing literary theory fosters new avenues into the text it allows you to make informed comments about the language and form of literature but also about the core themes concepts such as gender sexuality the self race and class which a text might explore literary theory gives you an almost limitless number of texts to work into your own response ensuring that your interpretation is truly original this is why although literary theory can initially appear alienating and difficult it is something to get really excited about imagine you are standing in the centre of a circular room with a whole set of doors laid out around you each doorway opens on to a new and illuminating field of knowledge that can change how you think about what you have read perhaps in just a small way but also perhaps dramatically and irrevocably you can open one door or many of them the choice is yours put the knowledge you gain together with your own interpretation however and you have a unique and potentially fascinating response each chapter in literary theory a complete introduction covers a key school of thought progressing to a point at which you have a full understanding of the range of responses and approaches available for textual interpretation as well as focusing on such core areas as marxism modernism postmodernism structuralism and poststructuralism this introduction brings in recent developments such as eco and ethical criticism and humanisms
