a mathematics book with six authors is perhaps a rare enough occurrence to make a reader ask how such a collaboration came about we begin therefore with a few words on how we were brought to the subject over a ten year period during part of which time we did not all know each other we do not intend to write here the history of continuous lattices but rather to explain our own personal involvement history in a more proper sense is provided by the bibliography and the notes following the sections of the book as well as by many remarks in the text a coherent discussion of the content and motivation of the whole study is reserved for the introduction in october of 1969 dana scott was lead by problems of semantics for computer languages to consider more closely partially ordered structures of function spaces the idea of using partial orderings to correspond to spaces of partially defined functions and functionals had appeared several times earlier in recursive function theory however there had not been very sustained interest in structures of continuous functionals these were the ones scott saw that he needed his first insight was to see that in more modern terminology the category of algebraic lattices and the so called scott continuous functions is cartesian closed the compendium like an encyclopedia contains entries for most of the foundational principles and concepts underlying arbitration each entry takes a holistic view of international arbitration as they tackle core concepts from both a commercial and an investment arbitration perspective focusing on the fundamental issues underlying the various topics rather than on the solutions adopted in any particular jurisdiction thus making the compendium a truly cross border transnational resource this innovative approach will allow readers to identify the commonalities as well as the differences between commercial and investment arbitration whether and where cross fertilization has taken place and what consequences it can have this approach allows the compendium to be a tool in promoting the creation of a culture of international arbitration that considers commercial arbitration and investment arbitration as part of a whole but with certain distinct features particular to each
