these papers cover the reasons behind the development of mummy portraits and the society from which they emerged as well as the artistic techniques employed primary source documents and detailed entries reveal what ancient egypt was like using the objects and artifacts of daily life from the period covering the predynastic era through the græco roman period 5000 bce to 300 ce historians have found that valuable knowledge about long ago civilizations can be derived from examining the simple routines of daily life this fascinating study presents a collection of everyday objects and artifacts from ancient egypt shedding light on the social life and culture of ancient egyptians the work starts with a popular notion of ancient egyptian beauty and gradually moves on to address various aspects of life including home work communication and transition and afterlife organized by topics the work contains the following sections beauty adornment and clothing household items furniture and games food and drink tools and weapons literacy and writing death and funerary equipment and religion ritual and magic each object holds equal importance and dates from the predynastic era to the græco roman period of ancient egypt 5000 bce to 300 ce a special section provides guidance on evaluating objects and artifacts by asking questions who created it who used it what did it do what was its purpose when and where was it made why was it made to help assess the historical context of the object the egyptian collection at norwich castle museum represents the first full publication of this important collection which contains several outstanding objects part 1 begins with an outline of the acquisition history of the egyptian collection and its display within norwich castle in 1894 when it was converted from a prison to a museum the collection was largely acquired between the nineteenth and first part of the twentieth centuries its most prominent donor was flaxman spurrell whose varied collection of flints faience beads and necklaces as well as late antique cloths was obtained from sir flinders petrie also prominent was the norwich based colman family most notable for its manufacture of mustard whose collection was purchased in egypt during the late c19 also included in this part are essays on several of the museum's outstanding items ipu's shroud a rare early 18th dynasty example with fragments also held in cairo the 22nd dynasty finely decorated and well preserved cartonnage and wooden lid of the priest ankh hor and the exceptional model granary of Nile clay painted with lively scenes one showing the owner Intef playing senet part 2 is a detailed catalogue of the complete collection it is organised into sections with objects grouped together mainly according to type stelae shabtis scarabs jewellery amulets vessels flints lamps inscribed book of the dead fragments metal figurines and late antique cloths and also according to function such as cosmetics grooming and architectural furniture elements the inscribed materials have all been translated and individual entries give examples or parallels seventy colour plates illustrate each object as the united states slowly disengages from the middle east and europe faces internal challenges a new actor is quietly exerting greater influence across north africa china beijing's growing footprint in north africa encompasses but is not limited to trade infrastructure development ports shipping financial cooperation tourism and manufacturing it is continuing to expand its co operation with north african countries not only in the economic and cultural spheres but also those of diplomacy and defence this engagement with north africa relates to the key aim of president xi jinping's belt and road initiative bri which wants to connect asia africa and europe and sees potential in north africa's strategic geographic location this book is the first to analyse china's role in north africa it comprises of five leading country experts anouar boukhars yahia zoubir sarah yerkes tareki magresi and nael shama who examine the various socio economic political and security aspects of china's relationship with algeria morocco libya tunisia and egypt the book explores how china is displaying a development model that seeks to combine authoritarianism with economic growth a model and that has an eager audience among regimes across the mena region it reveals how the china north africa relationship fits within the broader dynamics of increasing china us rivalry in doing so contributors explain why china s growing role in north africa is likely to have far reaching economic and geopolitical consequences for both countries in the region and around the world this reference work contains entries on every film made by hammer films a british studio renowned for its horror films of the 1950s 60s and 70s in addition according to the defined canons of art technique a portrait should be above all a faithful representation of its model however this gallery of 1000 portraits illustrates how the genre has been transformed throughout history and has proven itself to be much more complex than a simple imitation of reality beyond exhibiting the skill of the artist the portrait must surpass the task of imitation as just and precise as it may be to translate both the intention of the artist as well as that of its patron without betraying eitherÊs wishes therefore these silent witnesses carefully selected in these pages reveal more than faces of historic figures or anonymous subjects they reveal a psychology more than an identity illustrate an allegory serve as political and religious propaganda and embody the customs of their epochs with its impressive number of masterpieces biographies and commentaries on works this book presents and analyses different portraits consequently
