this dissertation approaches the question of sustainability and its influence on company performance with special focus on the manufacturing industry in the contemporary production environment manufacturing operations must take into account not only profit but also environmental and social performance in order to ensure the long term development of the company companies have to decide whether they should allocate resources to environmental and social practices in order to improve their competitive advantage consequently in decision making processes concerning operations it is important for companies to understand how to coordinate profit people and planet the objective of this dissertation was to investigate the current situation regarding manufacturers sustainable initiatives and to explore the relationship between these sustainable practices and companies performance including financial performance operational performance innovation performance environmental performance and social performance first of all a structured literature review was conducted to identify sustainable factors considered to be important in the decision making of manufacturing operations the findings were synthesized into a conceptual model which was then adopted as the basis for designing the survey instrument used in this dissertation drawing on global reporting initiative gri reports empirical research was performed to explore the relationship between environmental management practices and company performance interestingly the findings showed that many environmental management practices had a strong positive impact on innovation performance sustainability disclosures and financial performance were further analyzed using extended data from the gri reports the results also showed that several sustainability performance indicators such as product responsibility human rights and society displayed a significant and positive correlation with return on equity in the sample companies in order to further explore the research area and to verify these findings a triangulation approach was adopted and new data were collected via a survey conducted among middle and large sample companies in the swedish manufacturing industry the results indicated that the sustainable improvement practices had a positive impact on company performance some environmental and social improvement practices had a direct and positive correlation with product and process innovation furthermore findings suggested that better cooperation with suppliers on environmental work could help to strengthen the organizational green capabilities of the focal companies when considering the company s general approach to implementing sustainable practices some interesting findings emerged there were limited significant differences in sustainable practices when comparing different manufacturing sectors and different countries and regions however the results showed that swedish manufacturing companies often place higher priority on implementing economic and environmental sustainability practices than on social ones this dissertation contributes to the literature on manufacturing sustainability the study expands the understanding of how environmental social or economic perspectives as a triple bottom line can influence company performance and to a certain extent the supply chain identifying and understanding such relationships gives companies the opportunity to integrate sustainability into their manufacturing operations strategy in order to sustain their manufacturing operations over the long term as africa s strategic importance has increased over the past decade and a half united states security cooperation with the continent has expanded the most visible dimension of this increased engagement was the establishment of the u s military command for africa africom some critics are skeptical of africom s purpose and see the militarization of u s africa policy while others question its effectiveness recognizing the link between development and security africom represents a departure from the traditional organization of military commands because of its holistic approach and the involvement of the department of state as well as other u s government stakeholders nevertheless africom s effort to combine security and development faces formidable conceptual and operational challenges in trying to ensure both american and african security interests the human security perspective s emphasis on issues that go beyond traditional state centered security to include protecting individuals from threats of hunger disease crime environmental degradation and political repression as well as focusing on social and economic justice is an important component of security policy at the same time the threat of violent extremism heavily influences u s security cooperation with africa in this examination of the context of u s african security relations robert j griffiths outlines the nature of the african state traces the contours of african conflict surveys the post independence history of u s involvement on the continent and discusses policy organization and implementation and the impact of u s experiences in iraq and afghanistan on the u s africa security relationship africa s continuing geostrategic significance the influence of china and other emerging markets in the region and america s other global engagements especially in light of u s fiscal realities demonstrate the complexity of u s african security cooperation

The Judicialization of International Law when thinking about relations between europe and russia international relations scholars focus on why conflict has replaced cooperation the geostrategic debate excludes the possible coexistence of cooperation and conflict tracking the evolution of conflict and cooperation patterns in three zones of contact estonia kaliningrad and moldova between 1991 and 2016 this edited volume argues that although the standard narrative remains compelling local patterns of cooperation and conflict are partly autonomous from the geostrategic level to account for the coexistence of cooperation and conflict the first chapter elaborates a theoretical proposition distinguishing fluid rigid and disputed symbolic boundaries which have different impacts on the ground the subsequent chapters address distinct dimensions of euro russian relations paying attention to local reality in estonia moldova ukraine or kaliningrad different sectors from energy to peoples movement and across institutional contexts such as the eu and nato they confirm that the standard narrative holds in most cases but also that euro russian relations vary in crucial ways according to the interests and representations of actors immersed in specific geopolitical fields despite a deterioration of geostrategic relations between europe and russia since the end of the soviet union cooperation and conflict between europe and russia explores the intriguing coexistence of conflict and cooperation at the local level and across sectors and institutions the chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal east european politics
