struggling readers especially those in grades 4-8 need to feel success with reading they often develop negative mindsets and tune out and away from reading at this age currently there is a large market for low level high interest trade books to reach middle school students who are reading far below grade level the problem with such books however is that kids feel embarrassed to be seen reading them furthering the negative mindset and of course simply sticking a low level reader with a book and asking him or her to read independently is problematic because these kids likely still need some shared and guided reading support in order to master the skills they're lacking yet many middle grade teachers don't have experience teaching guided reading so they too need support this book by laura robb and david harrison solves these problems by offering both original poems and short texts for students as well as lesson ideas for teachers the poems and short texts are written specifically for students in grades 4 to 8 reading two or more years below grade level they're written at a second and third grade instructional level but the ideas will be complex plus the poems and short texts used for shared reading will be written at a higher level because the teacher reads the text first and then students choral read it together the book's ultimate goal is this as students gain self confidence by reading and discussing poetry short texts and books during independent reading their successes will develop the mindset needed to continue to read independently to improve their reading skill and stamina is there too much emphasis on guided reading in primary classrooms it s a question that many educators like kindergarten teacher and literacy coach cathy mere are starting to ask guided reading provides opportunities to teach students the strategies they need to learn how to read increasingly challenging texts but cathy found that she needed to find other ways to help students gain independence while maintaining guided reading as an important piece of their reading program teachers need to offer students opportunities during the day to develop as readers to learn to choose books to find favorite genres and authors and to talk about their reading in more than guided reading cathy shares her journey as she moved from focusing on guided reading as the center of her reading program to placing children at the heart of literacy learning not only providing more time for students to discover their reading lives but also shaping instruction to meet the needs of the diverse learners in her classroom by changing the structure of the day cathy found she was better able to adjust the support she was providing students allowing time for whole class focus lessons conferences and opportunities to share ideas as well as reading from self selected texts using the strategies skills and understandings acquired in reader s workshop the focus lesson is the centerpiece of the workshop it is often tied to a read aloud and connected to learning from the previous day helping to build skills extend thinking and develop independence over time this thoroughly practical text offers numerous sample lessons questions for conferences and ideas for revamping guided reading groups it will help teachers tweak the mix of instructional components in their reading workshops and provoke school wide conversations about the place of guided reading in a complete literacy curriculum
