reducing the persistent achievement gap between aboriginal students and their peers is recognized as a national priority this report springs from a study of schools that despite extraordinary challenges are producing tangible progress for aboriginal learners the research conducted in 2006 was designed to identify practices that appear to contribute to their success reprint of the original first published in 1872 the publishing house anatiposi publishes historical books as reprints due to their age these books may have missing pages or inferior quality our aim is to preserve these books and make them available to the public so that they do not get lost youth in education explores the multiple interrelated social contexts that young people inhabit and navigate and how educational institutions cope with increasing ethnic cultural and ideological diversity schools families and communities represent important settings in which young people must make successful transitions to adulthood and the classroom often becomes a battleground in which these contexts and values interact with contributions from the uk belgium germany and canada the chapters in this book explore rich examples from europe and north america to suggest strategies that can help to counter negative perceptions processes of stigmatization and disengagement instead prioritising peer support and cooperative learning to give pupils a renewed sense of worth this book takes the growing ethno cultural diversity in education systems to heart and studies the various related educational processes from a multidisciplinary and multi method approach it aims to offer more insight into underlying mechanisms that are often implicit but can be important factors that positively or negatively influence educational trajectories and outcomes it is essential reading for researchers academics and postgraduate students in the fields of education sociology higher education policy and politics and social and cultural geography this publication includes detailed information on how to analyse the pisa data enabling researchers to both reproduce the initial results and to undertake further analyses schools are constantly under pressure to keep up with the pace of changes in society in parallel societal demands for what schools should teach are also constantly changing often driven by political agendas ideologies or parental pressures to add global competency digital literacy data literacy environmental literacy media literacy social emotional skills etc this curriculum expansion puts pressure on policy makers and schools to add new contents to already crowded curriculum this groundbreaking research volume addresses the topic of educational inequality from a global perspective it includes 16 chapters from an international group of scholars who examine how well city school systems from around the world are preparing young people particularly poor and minority students with the skills they will need for further study work and life overall while skills in key domains such as science math language and civics have been center stage in international comparisons there has been growing recognition of the effects that education has on the development of broader sets of capabilities such as social and emotional skills also known as noncognitive or 21st century skills that can affect the success of students in school and beyond this volume aims to address the shortage of international data on the wide range of skills that students need to learn enabling researchers to compare the types and causes of educational inequality in skills within and between cities funding efficiency and equity in education in oecd countries the average expenditure on primary and secondary education institutions is about 3 5 of gdp the investment in education has large implications for economic development and the proper functioning of democratic institutions as well as overall well being however clear consensus and guidance on which system leads to the best educational outcomes is lacking this volume describes the resource allocation for compulsory and special needs education for a selection of well performing countries and regions on pisa tests by studying the funding systems in well performing countries and regions the authors identify the elements in the respective funding systems that are associated with best outcomes and have the ideal characteristics to pursue particular goals of education systems such as equity and efficiency the funding methods of primary and secondary education as well as special needs education are covered ebook available in open access this publication is gprc labeled guaranteed peer reviewed content program examines exemplary practices in seven of the schools studied in the exemplary schools project no province in canada has codified a written constitution and whether quebec should be the first remains a controversial question a written constitution for quebec enters into the debate drawing a roadmap through the legal political and constitutional terrain of the issue leading scholars each take their own position in the debate examining the issue from various sides and exploring the forms and limits of a codified quebec constitution by asking whether quebec should adopt a written constitution how the province might go about it and what such a document might achieve along with a comprehensive introduction to constitutional codification and how it relates to quebec the book opens with a proposal for a written constitution with the analyses that follow expressing a diversity of views on the feasibility and desirability of a written constitution for the province an array of perspectives through the lenses of indigenous inclusion and reconciliation interculturalism and democratic constitutionalism and insights from other federal and plurinational states are included in this wide ranging volume taking a doctrinal historical theoretical and comparative approach a written constitution for quebec extensively addresses quebec s constitutional future in canada the south asian population in canada encompassing diverse national ethnic and religious backgrounds has in recent years become the largest visible minority in the country as this community grows it encounters challenges in settlement integration and development accounting for only 1 per cent of the population in quebec the south asian community has received limited attention in comparison with other minority groups the invisible community uses recent data from a variety of fields to explore who these immigrants are and what they and their families require to become members of an inclusive society experts from canadian and international universities and governmental and community agencies describe how south asian immigrants experience life in french speaking canada they look at how members of the community integrate into the job market how they manage socially and emotionally how their religious values are affected and how their children adapt to french speaking and english speaking schools the invisible community shares lived experiences of different subgroups of the south asian population in quebec in order to better understand wider social political and educational contexts of immigration in canada this book uses the publicly available teds m data to answer such questions as how does teacher education contribute to the learning outcomes of future teachers are there programs that are more successful than others in helping teachers learn to teach mathematics how does the local and national policy environment contribute to teacher education outcomes it invites readers to explore these questions across a large number of international settings the importance of preparing future mathematics teachers has become a priority across many nations across the globe nations have allocated resources and expertise to this endeavour yet in spite of the importance accorded to teacher education not much is known about different approaches to preparing knowledgeable teachers and whether these approaches do in fact achieve their purpose the mathematics teacher education and development study teds m is the first and to date the only cross national study using scientific and representative samples to provide empirical data on the knowledge that future mathematics teachers of primary and secondary school acquire in their teacher education programs the study addresses the central importance of teacher knowledge in learning to teach mathematics by examining variation in the nature and influence of teacher education programs within and across countries the study collected data on teacher education programs structure curriculum and opportunities to learn on teacher educators characteristics and beliefs and on future mathematics teachers individual characteristics beliefs and mathematics and pedagogical knowledge across 17 countries providing a unique opportunity to explore enduring questions in the field this report delivers evidence based and practical recommendations on how to better support employment and economic development in canada for the last 137 years the statesman s yearbook has been relied upon to provide accurate and comprehensive information on the current political economic and social status of every country in the world the appointment of the new editor only the seventh in 137 years brought enhancements to the 1998 99 edition and these have been continued since then internet usage figures are included specially commissioned essays from major political and academic figures supplement country entries in areas of major upheaval and change a fold out colour section provides a political world map and flags for the 191 countries of the world the task of monitoring the pattern or flow of world change is never ending however the annual publication of the statesman s yearbook gives all the information needed in one easily digestible single volume it will save hours of research and cross referencing between different sources a prestigious and popular book the statesman s yearbook is updated every 12 months in a world of continual change the statesman s yearbook is a necessary annual purchase this book upturns many established ideas regarding the economic and social history of quebec the canadian province that is home to the majority of its french population it places the case of quebec into the wider question of convergence in economic history and whether proactive governments delay or halt convergence the period from 1945 to 1960 infamously labelled the great gloom grande noirceur was in fact a breaking point where the previous decades of relative decline were overturned geloso argues that this era should be considered the great convergence grand rattrapage in opposition the quiet revolution that followed after 1960 did not accelerate these trends in fact there are signs of slowing down and relative decline that appear after the 1970s the author posits that the quiet revolution sowed the seeds for a growth slowdown by crowding out social capital and inciting rent seeking behaviour on the part of interest groups this collection argues that being aware of and reflecting on language form and language use is a powerful tool not only in language learning but also in wider society it adopts an interdisciplinary stance one chapter argues the need for language awareness in business contexts while another examines the role of critical cultural awareness and language awareness in education as bildung others report on research studies in language classrooms and in teacher education language awareness is interrogated from a range of perspectives such as peer interaction teaching young learners learner strategies and strategies for writing online reading and oral fluency training the scope is global including contributions from canada germany iran japan spain and the uk and covers bilingual as well as multilingual contexts the book will be of interest to language teachers language teacher educators other language professionals and generally to the language aware this book was originally published as a special issue of language awareness now more than ever as a worldwide stem community we need to know what pre collegiate teachers and students explore learn and implement in relation to computer science and engineering education as computer science and engineering education are not always stand alone courses in pre collegiate schools how are pre collegiate teachers and students learning about these topics how can these subjects be integrated explore six articles in this book that directly relate to the currently hot topics of computer science and engineering education as they tie into pre collegiate science technology and mathematics realms there is a systematic review article to set the stage of the problem following this overview are two teacher focused articles on professional development in computer science and entrepreneurship venture training the final three articles focus on varying levels of student work including pre collegiate secondary students exploration of engineering design technology future science teachers collegiate students perceptions of engineering and pre collegiate future engineers exploration of environmental radioactivity all six articles speak to computer science and engineering education in pre collegiate forums but blend into the collegiate world for a look at what all audiences can bring to the conversation about these topics research paper on income redistribution effects of old age benefit programmes in canada uses a simulation model to generate the life histories pension contributions and benefits of a sample population and considers relationships between perceived wealth and savings behaviour population growth assumptions sex income and family status an indispensable guide to government agencies professional associations colleges and university level institutions concerned with the initial and further training of teachers and other education specialists around the world it lists over 5 000 institutions in some 170 countries originally published in french as la philosophie une ecole de la liberte enseignement de la philosophie et apprentissage du philosophe etat des lieux et regards pour l avenir this study is dedicated to all those who engaged themselves with vigour and conviction in the defence of the teaching of philosophy a fertile guarantor of liberty and autonomy this publication is also dedicated to the young spirits of today bound to become the active citizens of tomorrow canada s magazine for physical and health educators the volumes in this set originally published between 1964 and 2002 draw together research by leading academics in the area of higher education and provide a rigorous examination of related key issues the volume examines the concepts of learning teaching student experience and administration in relation to the higher education through the areas of business sociology education reforms government educational policy business and religion whilst also exploring the general principles and practices of higher education in various countries this set will be of particular interest to students and practitioners of education politics and sociology the classic reference work that provides annually updated information on the countries of the world
