2012-08 this practical book addresses the consistent questions that were posed by secondary social studies teachers during professional learning sessions in particular it examines ways to break through the inclination and perception expressed by many teachers that my kids cannot do that drawing on 22 years as a high school history teacher 7 years as a state level curriculum specialist and extensive work with in service teachers across the country the author provides research based guidance for engaging students in investigating the past lesh examines ways to develop effective questions that guide historical inquires how to utilize discussion in the classroom and how to align assessment to inquiry he also shows teachers how to incorporate difficult histories within an inquiry framework each chapter uses a specific lesson framed by student work to illuminate approaches in real classroom scenarios topics include the pullman strike of 1894 the marcus garvey question dust bowl migrants mao and communist china the lgbtq fight for rights and multiple lessons from world war i this follow up to the author s book why won t you just tell us the answer fills in gaps and expands tools and classroom examples to assist today s teachers book features offers ways to promote teacher growth as it pertains to historical thinking demonstrates how to align investigating the past with the needs of reluctant readers and students with special needs provides lesson materials and instructional guidance addresses how to teach difficult subjects such as lgbtq history aligns historical literacy with inquiry based instruction

Co-Teaching Do's, Don'ts, and Do Betters 2020-07-23 it is not difficult to argue that the social sciences are in a period of transition our day to day lives have been marked by uncertainty as our social lives have vacillated wildly between highs and lows tensions between fellow citizens have heightened along ideological fault lines and educators have been placed squarely at the center of public discourses about what and how we should be teaching by any measure we are living in a time where every moment seems to be rife with high stakes realities that must be navigated ladson billings 2020 called on educators to reimagine education and contest the notion of a return to normal in the current highly polarized context where we see multiple competing narratives rather than promoting a return to normal or business as usual approach we argue that educators must use the lessons of the last two years as well as draw on what we have learned from history and the social sciences by asking ourselves how we might interrogate and inform current social landscapes and the challenges that arise from them we have the opportunity to take leadership in fostering innovation building solidarity and re imagining the teaching and learning of history and the social sciences we recognize that humans live in multiple complex communities that include intersectional identities relationships with power agency and discourses and lived realities that are as unique as they are divergent consequently the task of educators and the goal of this volume is to provide a clarion voice to a dynamic relational and undeniably human social world
