Tax Treaties: Building Bridges between Law and Economics

in this book experts from the field of economics take a different view of tax treaty issues than experts from the field of law in order to encourage the much needed communication between these two groups a cross disciplinary conference was held to discuss selected tax treaty issues from both a legal and economic perspective twenty five conference papers on eight topics were prepared by lawyers and economists the papers on legal issues were presented and discussed by economists and vice versa the interdisciplinary focus of the conference not only allowed an exchange of knowledge between two groups who think differently about similar issues but also made it possible to better grasp the impact of the thinking of one group on the areas of interest to the other group the outcome of the conference is reflected in this book by showing the legal and the economic approaches to an issue this book improves the general understanding of the two disciplines and demonstrates how the decisions in one discipline may influence the other discipline and its concepts twenty two contributions are included written by the most distinguished academics practitioners and representatives of several international tax administrations and both tax and economic institutions in this book andrew harvey sets out to provide a unified and comprehensive theory of structural time series models unlike the traditional arima models structural time series models consist explicitly of unobserved components such as trends and seasonals which have a direct interpretation as a result the model selection methodology associated with structural models is much closer to econometric methodology the link with econometrics is made even closer by the natural way in which the models can be extended to include explanatory variables and to cope with multivariate time series from the technical point of view state space models and the kalman filter play a key role in the statistical treatment of structural time series models the book includes a detailed treatment of the kalman filter this technique was originally developed in control engineering but is becoming increasingly important in fields such as economics and operations research this book is concerned primarily with modelling economic and social time series and with addressing the special problems which the treatment of such series poses the properties of the models and the methodological techniques used to select them are illustrated with various applications these range from the modelling of trends and cycles in us macroeconomic time series to to an evaluation of the effects of seat belt legislation in the uk
