artistic endeavors gain an inside perspective on what it's like when you love math and science and happen to be a girl. Fashion figures highlights the societal and internal pressures preteen and early teen girls often face when they excel in these subjects and it shows strategies for overcoming barriers to being themselves and doing what they love while still fitting in socially. What you'll learn girls can have a passion for STEM science technology engineering and math subjects and still be cool. Girls can be great at math. Math skills are important in non-STEM centered subject areas like fashion and art. Math can be fun. Who this book is for: pre-teen and early teen girls 9-14 years old.

Resources in Education 2013 critical reasoning 1 of the 8 books in Manhattan GMAT's preparation guide series provides a highly organized and structured approach to the variety of questions in this verbal content area. The guide simplifies arguments by illustrating innovative diagramming techniques designed to increase comprehension and improve accuracy and also details the major and minor critical reasoning question types that appear on the GMAT. The book offers a unique balance between two competing emphases: test-taking strategies and in-depth content understanding. Practice problem sets build specific foundational skills in each topic and include the most advanced content that many other prep books ignore. The book also includes online access to 6 full-length simulated practice GMAT exams at Manhattan GMAT's website.
