The Age of Questions

a groundbreaking history of the big questions that dominated the nineteenth century in the early nineteenth century a new age began the age of questions in the eastern and belgian questions as much as in the slavery worker social woman and jewish questions contemporaries saw not interrogatives to be answered but problems to be solved alexis de tocqueville victor hugo karl marx frederick douglass fyodor dostoevsky rosa luxemburg and adolf hitler were among the many who put their pens to the task the age of questions asks how the question form arose what trajectory it followed and why it provoked such feverish excitement for over a century was there a family resemblance between questions have they disappeared or are they on the rise again in our time in this pioneering book holly case undertakes a stunningly original analysis presenting chapter by chapter seven distinct arguments and frameworks for understanding the age she considers whether it was marked by a progressive quest for emancipation of women slaves jews laborers and others a steady inexorable march toward genocide and the final solution or a movement toward federation and the dissolution of boundaries or was it simply a farce a false frenzy dreamed up by publicists eager to sell subscriptions as the arguments clash patterns emerge and sharpen until the age reveals its full and peculiar nature turning convention on its head with meticulous and astonishingly broad scholarship the age of questions illuminates how patterns of thinking move history years of tremendous growth in response to complex emergencies have left a mark on the humanitarian sector various matters that once seemed settled are now subjects of intense debate what is humanitarianism is it limited to the provision of relief to victims of conflict or does it include broader objectives such as human rights democracy promotion development and peacebuilding for much of the last century the principles of humanitarianism were guided by neutrality impartiality and independence more recently some humanitarian organizations have begun to relax these tenets the recognition that humanitarian action can lead to negative consequences has forced humanitarian organizations to measure their effectiveness to reflect on their ethical positions and to consider not only the values that motivate their actions but also the consequences of those actions in the indispensable humanitarianism in question michael barnett and thomas g weiss bring together scholars from a variety of disciplines to address the humanitarian identity crisis including humanitarianism s relationship to accountability great powers privatization and corporate philanthropy warlords and the ethical evaluations that inform life and death decision making during and after emergencies this volume features essays that explore the insights of the 14th century parisian nominalist philosopher john buridan it serves as a companion to the latin text edition and annotated english translation of his question commentary on aristotle s on the soul the contributors survey buridan s work both in its own historical theoretical context and in relation to contemporary issues the essays come in three main sections which correspond to the three books of buridan s questions coverage first deals with the classification of the science of the soul within the system of aristotelian sciences and surveys the main issues within it the next section examines the metaphysics of the soul it considers buridan s peculiar version of aristotelian hylomorphism in dealing with the problem of what kind of entity the soul in particular the human soul is and what powers and actions it has on the basis of which we can approach the question of its essence the volume concludes with a look at buridan s doctrine of the nature and functions of the human intellect coverage in this section includes the problem of self knowledge in buridan s theory buridan s answer to the traditional medieval problem concerning the primary object of the intellect and his unique treatment of logical problems in psychological contexts

this study investigates the distribution of linguistic and specifically structural diversity in northeast asia nea defined as the region north of the yellow river and east of the yenisei in particular it analyzes what is called the grammar of questions gq i e those aspects of any given language that are specialized for asking questions or regularly combine with these the bulk of the study is a bottom up description and comparison of gqs in the languages of nea the addition of the phrase and beyond to the title of this study serves two purposes first languages such as turkish and chuvash are included despite the fact that they are spoken outside of nea since they have ties to or even originated in the region second despite its focus on one area the typology is intended to be applicable to other languages as well therefore it makes extensive use of data from languages outside of nea the restriction to one category is necessary for reasons of space and clarity and the process of zooming in on one region allows a higher resolution and historical accuracy than is usually the case in linguistic typology the discussion mentions over 450 languages and dialects from nea and beyond and gives about 900 glossed examples the aim is to achieve both a cross linguistically plausible typology and a maximal resolution of the linguistic diversity of northeast asia plato s introduction to the question of justice uncovers the heart of the platonic analysis of justice by focusing on the crucial opening sections of the republic stauffer argues that the dialectical confrontations with ordinary opinion presented in these sections provide the basis for plato s view of justice and that they also help to show how plato s thought remains relevant today especially as a rival to kantianism these irreconcilable tensions derive from the same source from the failure of western rationalism to erect a solid house on a solid foundation as it promised it would that is western philosophy promised an elegant structure with the top floor comprised of the gracious rooms for human living the space where man lives happily with man because he understands the cosmic necessity of the moral truths he knows surely what he and his fellow man should do to be fulfilled and happy in the most sublime sense of happiness the discovery by rational science that man is an historical and biological accident convinced the philosopher that moral truths must be relative to unsupported human choice and therefore that our moral certainty would have to be derived from the non scientific realm of faith the realm of religion and art the realm of the non rational today the good news is that this problem is really almost academic as they say from the late nineteenth century through most of the twentieth the failure of western rationalism created a great outpouring of thought and expression from thinkers artists scientists and ordinary intellectuals even the great world wars were often understood in light of this issue today all is quiet on the western front the vacuum left by the failure of western rationalism in regard to human morality seems to have been filled quite nicely by the judeo christian and islamic religions and perhaps they always carried most of the burden for most of us anyway only in the hallowed halls of our academies if there do earnest students and professors argue over the foundations of human thought and action now that things are quiet and old controversies are largely ignored if not exactly laid to rest it might be enjoyable to start thinking again for when the entertainment is over and one is alone the mind turns to reflection in this collection of essays allyn mcauley explores many of the largest themes in western philosophy from a fresh perspective he believes that both primary branches of contemporary philosophy have lost the original animating spirit of western thought and attributes this to their implicit acceptance of modern moral relativism advocating a return to the naive questioning characteristic of our native intelligence the author examines popular views on such diverse issues as abortion ethics the internet and human freedom extraterrestrial intelligence business theory and international human rights he moves from these topical reflections to offer thoughts on extraordinary questions that he believes are beyond the mastery of any philosopher yet demand the attention of all thinking men and women questions on the nature of truth beauty love happiness and the immortality of the human soul mcauley concludes with the contention that philosophy by itself is insufficient and that the scientific impulse must be supplemented by the artistic sensibility in order to yield true understanding and therefore happiness the goal of human life in secular europe the veracity of modern science is almost always taken for granted whether they think of the evolutionary proofs of darwin or of spectacular investigation into the boundaries of physics conducted by cern s large hadron collider most people assume that scientific enquiry goes to the heart of fundamental truths about the universe yet elsewhere science is under siege in the usa christian fundamentalists contest whether evolution should be taught in schools at all and in muslim countries like tunisia egypt pakistan and malaysia a mere 15 per cent of those recently surveyed believed darwin s theory to be true or probably true this thoughtful and passionately argued book contends absolutely to the contrary not only that evolutionary theory does not contradict core muslim beliefs but that many scholars from islam s golden age to the present adopted a worldview that accepted evolution as a given guessoum suggests that the islamic world just like the christian needs to take scientific questions quantum questions with the utmost seriousness if it is to recover its true heritage and integrity in its application of a specifically muslim perspective to important topics like cosmology divine action and evolution the book makes a vital contribution to debate in the disputed field of science and religion the kurds once marginal in the study of the middle east and secondary in its international relations have moved to center stage in recent years in turkey where the kurdish question is an issue of national significance and in iraq where the gains made by the kurdistan regional government have allowed it to impose its authority moves are afoot to solve the kurdish question once and for all in syria where the kurds have borne the brunt of the islamic state s onslaught as they defended their three self declared cantons of afrin kobane and cezire and in iran where they struggle to express their cultural distinctiveness and suffer disproportionately at the hands of the islamic republic s security and intelligence services the picture is less positive yet the situations in both countries remain in flux affected by developments in iraq and turkey in a manner that suggests we may have to revise the notion of the kurds being forever divided by the boundaries of the middle east and subsumed into the state projects of other nations the contributors to the kurdish question revisited offer insights into how this once seemingly intractable immutable phenomenon is being transformed amid the new political realities of the middle east
