the world interweaves two stories of our interactions with nature and with each other the environment centered story is about humans distancing themselves from the rest of nature and searching for a relationship that strikes a balance between constructive and destructive exploitation the culture centered story is of how human cultures have become mutually influential and yet mutually differentiating both stories have been going on for thousands of years we do not know whether they will end in triumph or disaster there is no prospect of covering all of world history in one book rather the fabric of this book is woven from selected strands readers will see these at every turn twisted together into yarn stretched into stories human focused historical ecology the environmental theme will drive readers back again and again to the same concepts sustenance shelter disease energy technology art the last is a vital category for historians not only because it is part of our interface with the rest of the world but also because it forms a record of how we see reality and of how the way we see it changes in the global story of human interactions the cultural theme we return constantly to the ways people make contact with each another migration trade war imperialism pilgrimage gift exchange diplomacy travel and to their social frameworks the economic and political arenas the human groups and groupings the states and civilizations the sexes and generations the classes and clusters of identity for about one hundred years pan africanism as a social cultural economic political and philosophical idea thrived towards the tail end of the twentieth century however it waned but in more recent times there has been noticeable resurgence and as we approach the second decade of the twenty first century there are indications of significant transformations vis à vis the role and place of pan africanism and pan africanists consequently this book offers a new further and better understanding of pan africanism not just from the traditional african and african american points of view but also from a global perspective it does so by offering an analysis of its early years in terms of the personalities ideas and conferences that shaped it it also examines many of the factors that brought about its decline and its eventual rebirth contributing to this seminal work are scholars of different but complementary styles and intellect who deviate from the more traditional or obvious approaches for instance one of the chapters explores pan africanism from the geographic perspective while another examines the role and place of women in the pan african movement there are also voices that advance the conversation from the regional and continental viewpoint hence chapters that investigate the status of pan africanism in latin america in the caribbean and islam and pan africanism in the modern world ethnonationalism and xenophobia are also part of the treatise because increasingly these injurious phenomena are reemerging in africa s landscape and consciousness in an increasingly interdependent and interrelated world this book also suggests that pan africanism will undergo a metamorphosis problems and challenges will be seen and tackled from the globalization and global common perspective pan africanism in modern times goes beyond the historicity of pan africanism and examines the challenges concerns and constraints it faces and also examines it from an inclusive perspective to have a broader understanding of this phenomenon and its future trajectory
