Educational Assessment 2023-10-19 this book explores and builds on the extraordinary work of professor paul black across assessment and pedagogy across the curriculum including stem humanities and social science subjects this book explores the influence that black has had within educational settings focusing on interpretations of the work and scholarship he has achieved across a range of settings and on the ways scholars who have worked with him or been influenced by his ideas have developed their research and teaching the contributions are presented under three thematic sections each of which reflects a set of shared educational concerns and values drawing on the natural and social sciences and developments in public policy these concerns and values with their emphasis on teacher assessment provide a basis for a strategic informed and coherent response to challenges in education such as the cancellation of public examinations in the face of the covid 19 pandemic

Devolution and Governance 2014-11-27 this book examines the development of welsh devolution in the context of great economic and political uncertainty drawing on research carried out over more than a decade it explores whether welsh devolution has developed the capacity to resist internal and external pressures and to continue to pursue a distinctive political and policy agenda

Creating Curricula: Aims, Knowledge and Control 2018-03-08 knowledge has been a defining focus for the curriculum studies field in the early part of the 21st century convincing arguments were mounted that knowledge needed to be brought back in both to the curriculum of schools and to the attention of curriculum researchers this book is a result of these arguments and what some regarded as a crisis in curriculum study related to the growing emphasis on international comparisons between education systems the book s most important contribution is to build on seminal work in the sociology and philosophy of education in order to develop new foundations for curriculum study using the importance of transactions as the context for understanding knowledge in the curriculum the contributors build on this importance to suggest a rapprochement in the field around the idea of curriculum knowledge as both constructed and real this book was originally published as a special issue of the curriculum journal

The administration of examinations for 15-19 year olds in England 2012-07-03 this report from the education committee looks at the administration of examinations for 15 19 year olds in england the committee expresses serious concerns about incentives in the exam system and about competition on syllabus content incentives in the system should be changed so the downward pressure through the competition of exam boards is mitigated the committee considers a number of options to change incentives including i a single board this offers a simpler system with no risk of competition but the committee believes the cost risk and disruption outweigh the benefits ii franchising of subjects to exam boards this removes syllabus competition but again has downsides 3 or the current system of multiple boards the committee sees no benefit in competition on syllabus content but the setting and marking of exams and associated administration if properly regulated could generate incentives and drive quality up offering value for money to schools and colleges the committee also recommends the development of national syllabuses accredited by ofqual the syllabuses would be developed by exam boards in conjunction with learned bodies and employer organisations and could therefore retain the benefits of competition on quality and the incentive for exam boards to innovate

Let That Be a Lesson 2021-08-19 a frank funny and long overdue ode to teachers and teaching adam kay the malodorous horrors of sports day bracing yourself for parents evening refereeing teenage relationship dramas from the age of eight ryan wilson dreamed of being a teacher this is the inside story of his time at the chalkface from fresh faced trainee with grand ideals to exhausted assistant head battling ever changing demands it is a tribute too to the colleagues who befriended him and to the students who inspired him above all it s about the lessons they taught him how to be patient and resilient how to live authentically and how to value every day hilarious inspiring and so terrifyingly true lucy kelloway delightfully frank and funny jacqueline wilson a hilarious love letter to teaching christie watson funny sensitive and clever victoria derbyshire

Is Assessment Fair? 2020-08-24 fairness in educational assessment has become a major talking point and allegations that assessments are unfair are commonplace on social media and in the press but what does fairness mean in practice and how can we evaluate it this book offers a timely and necessary investigation exploring the concept through the lenses of measurement theory social justice the law and philosophy in order to put forward a template for fairness in educational assessment drawing on international examples from the uk us

australia and south east asia this book offers a commentary on fairness that is highly relevant to the changing context of assessment today if you have a professional or academic interest in educational assessment are a education policymakers or are just interested in working to make assessment fair then this book is for you Standard Setting in Education 2017-02-27 this book summarizes the international evidence on methodological issues in standard setting in education by critically discussing the standard setting practices implemented in the nordic countries and by presenting new methodological approaches it offers fresh perspectives on the current research standard setting targets crucial societal objectives by defining educational benchmarks at different achievement levels and provides feedback to policy makers schools and teachers about the strengths and weaknesses of a school system given that the consequences of standard setting can be dramatic the quality of standard setting is a prime concern if it fails repercussions can be expected in terms of arbitrary evaluations of educational policy wrong turns in school or teacher development or misplacement of individual students standard setting therefore needs to be accurate reliable valid useful and defensible however specific evidence on the benefits and limits of different approaches to standard setting is rare and scattered and there is a particular lack with respect to standard setting in the nordic countries where the number of national tests is increasing and there are concerns about the time and effort spent on testing at schools without feedback being provided addressing this gap the book offers a discussion on standard setting by respected experts as well as profound and innovative insights into fundamental aspects of standard setting including conclusions for future methodological and policy related research

Teacher Education through Active Engagement 2013-12-04 teacher education through active engagement identifies and addresses a contemporary issue the ways in which teaching and teacher education are articulated by politicians civil servants business leaders and educational entrepreneurs intent on profit making in the current global neoliberal policy context this is often characterised by narrow and ill conceived ideas about teacher characteristics and competences recruiting and fast tracking graduates from elsewhere into the profession the reform of teacher training with less emphasis on theory and academic study a narrow focus on teachers core skills and the promotion of training in model teaching schools in this book contributors challenge this conceptualisation and demonstrate practitioners necessary intellectual activity to wrest back professional control by drawing on practice focused research carried out in sites of educational policy and practice each chapter exemplifies for teachers student teachers and teacher educators the sort of knowledge work to coordinate a professional reply to non educationalists who dictate the terms of teaching and teacher education the book provides directions for encouraging critical thinking analytical skills and political activism which consider the needs and interests of diverse children and young people in real classrooms real schools and real communities illustrated throughout with practice focused research and drawing on the historical case of winifred mercier and her colleagues at the city of leeds training college who challenged the establishment to leave a legacy of professional control the book will appeal to practitioners academics and researchers in the fields of teacher education and education studies

Negotiating the Boundaries of Belonging 2017-09-27 nils witte explores turkish migrants destigmatization strategies and investigates their legal and symbolic motives for naturalisation using mixed methods and unique data the author shows that turkish migrants inclination to naturalise would be stronger if they were allowed to retain their former citizenship and if they were recognized as symbolic members of german society minority members enjoy expansive rights as permanent residents and many are entitled to hold german citizenship however they often experience symbolic exclusion making symbolic membership a rare motive for naturalisation

System Leadership 2019-03-21 system leadership defined as leading beyond a single institution is a feature of the english education system which has been heralded as both the solution to school improvement and an extension to the school leadership career ladder however claims that it evidences a change of governance towards increasing self regulation of the education system are contested susan cousin explores the governance and policy perspectives of system leadership she captures rich narratives over several years from the lived experience of system leaders headteachers they worked with and those brokering the relationships the daily realities of the challenges they faced include tensions arising from conflicted governance environments where autonomy coexists with accountability and collaboration with competition identifying four types of system leader the hero head the auditor the protector and the collaborator she presents a conceptual model of system leadership practice a clear explanation of how different approaches affect power relationships the nature of trust and types of learning the model can be used to inform decisions made by current and future system leaders and those who make policy the book concludes by reaffirming the power of system leadership to deliver educational reform and the need to avoid unintended consequences including the fragmentation of the system and increased inequality

Debates in Mathematics Education 2020-06-15 assessment of educational achievement whether by traditional examinations or by teachers in schools attracts considerable public interest particularly when it is associated with high stakes outcomes such as university entry or selection for employment when the individual s results do not chime with their or their teachers expectations doubts creep in about the process of assessment that has arrived at this result however educational assessment is made up of many layers of complexity which are not always clear to the general public including teachers students and parents and which are not easily understood outside of the expert assessment community these layers may be organized in highly co dependent relationships that include reliability validity human judgment and errors and the uses and interpretations of the various types of assessment no one could reasonably argue that the principles and complexities of educational assessment should be core learning in public education but there is a growing realization that trust in the uk assessment system is under some threat as the media and others sensationalize or politicize any problems that arise each year this book offers the first comprehensive overview of how the general public is considered to perceive and understand a wide variety of aspects of educational assessment and how this understanding may be improved this book was originally published as a special issue of the oxford review of education
