consider the problem of a robot algorithm learning mechanism moving along the real line attempting to locate a particular point to assist the mechanism we assume that it can communicate with an environment oracle which guides it with information regarding the direction in which it should go if the environment is deterministic the problem is the deterministic point location problem which has been studied rather thoroughly 1 in its pioneering version 1 the problem was presented in the setting that the environment could charge the robot a cost which was proportional to the distance it was from the point sought for the question of having multiple communicating robots locate a point on the line has also been studied 1 2 in the stochastic version of this problem we consider the scenario when the learning mechanism attempts to locate a point in an interval with stochastic i e possibly erroneous instead of deterministic responses from the environment thus when it should really be moving to the right it may be advised to move to the left and vice versa apart from the problem being of importance in its own right the stochastic point location problem also has potential applications in solving optimization problems in many optimization solutions for example in image processing pattern recognition and neural computing 5 9 11 12 14 16 19 the algorithm works its way from its current solution to the optimal solution based on information that it currently has a crucial question is one of determining the parameter which the optimization algorithm should use carbohydrate chemistry provides review coverage of all publications relevant to the chemistry of monosaccharides and oligosaccharides in a given year the amount of research in this field appearing in the organic chemical literature is increasing because of the enhanced importance of the subject especially in areas of medicinal chemistry and biology in no part of the field is this more apparent than in the synthesis of oligosaccharides required by scientists working in glycobiology glycomedicinal chemistry and its reliance on carbohydrate synthesis is now very well established for example by the preparation of specific carbohydrate based antigens especially cancer specific oligosaccharides and glycoconjugates coverage of topics such as nucleosides amino sugars alditols and cyclitols also covers much research of relevance to biological and medicinal chemistry each volume of the series brings together references to all published work in given areas of the subject and serves as a comprehensive database for the active research chemist specialist periodical reports provide systematic and detailed review coverage in major areas of chemical research compiled by teams of leading authorities in the relevant subject areas the series creates a unique service for the active research chemist with regular in depth accounts of progress in particular fields of chemistry subject coverage within different volumes of a given title is similar and publication is on an annual or biennial basis
