when thinking about relations between europe and russia international relations scholars focus on why conflict has replaced cooperation the geostrategic debate excludes the possible coexistence of cooperation and conflict tracking the evolution of conflict and cooperation patterns in three zones of contact estonia kaliningrad and moldova between 1991 and 2016 this edited volume argues that although the standard narrative remains compelling local patterns of cooperation and conflict are partly autonomous from the geostrategic level to account for the coexistence of cooperation and conflict the first chapter elaborates a theoretical proposition distinguishing fluid rigid and disputed symbolic boundaries which have different impacts on the ground the subsequent chapters address distinct dimensions of euro russian relations paying attention to local reality in estonia moldova ukraine or kaliningrad different sectors from energy to peoples movement and across institutional contexts such as the eu and nato they confirm that the standard narrative holds in most cases but also that euro russian relations vary in crucial ways according to the interests and representations of actors immersed in specific geopolitical fields despite a deterioration of geostrategic relations between europe and russia since the end of the soviet union cooperation and conflict between europe and russia explores the intriguing coexistence of conflict and cooperation at the local level and across sectors and institutions the chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the journal east european politics the increasing number of executive tasks assigned to eu institutions and agencies has resulted in a greater demand for justice that can no longer be satisfied by the courts alone this has led to the development of a wide range of administrative remedies that have become a central part of the eu administrative justice system this book examines the important theoretical and practical issues raised by this phenomenon the work focuses on five administrative remedies internal review administrative appeals to the commission against decisions of executive and decentralised agencies independent administrative review of decisions of decentralised agencies complaints to the eu ombudsman and complaints to the eu data protection supervisor the research rests on the idea that there is a complex and at times ambivalent relationship between administrative remedies and the varying degrees of autonomy of eu institutions and bodies offices and agencies the work draws on legislation internal rules of executive bodies administrative practices and specific case law data and statistics this empirical approach helps to unveil the true dynamics present within these procedures and demonstrates that whilst administrative remedies may improve the relationship between individuals and the eu administration their interplay with administrative autonomy might lead to a risk of fragmentation and incoherence in the eu administrative justice system despite its many distinguished proponents over time ex aequo et bono the idea of deciding disputes on the basis of what an adjudicator regards as fair and equitable has failed to take hold in international commercial arbitration ica formalisation and fossilisation of arbitral procedure as manifested in the increasing use of litigation style practice unfortunately reign instead this bold and challenging book argues that parties to an arbitration should be more willing for their cross border disputes to be decided and arbitrators should be more prepared to decide those disputes in accordance with broad principles of equity and fairness rather than by strict adherence to technical rules of law putting forward suggestions based on extensive research and doctrinal considerations this book invites us to confront what ica was supposed to be what it now is and what it can be in particular dr teramura discusses how by resorting to ex aequo et bono arbitrators can construe contractual terms including the limits apply trade usages deal with mandatory rules of a given forum or place of performance minimise the cost and length of time that arbitration takes avoid the abuse of discretion and ensure predictable results the book examines significant differences in the way that ex aequo et bono arbitration is understood among various state and international institutions it attempts to identify a common core of universally accepted concepts underlying those different understandings the book argues that ex aequo et bono has the potential to reform ica without undermining its positive aspects along the way it discusses the implications of ex aequo et bono arbitration on the now widely used uncitral model law on ica it should thus appeal to lay business persons and commercial law practitioners who are looking for an economical and efficient way to solve business disputes within a globalised arbitration framework this book describes and assesses an emerging threat to states territorial control and sovereignty the hostile control of companies that carry out privatized aspects of sovereign authority the threat arises from the massive worldwide shift of state activities to the private sector since the late 1970s in conjunction with two other modern trends the globalization of business and the liberalization of international capital flows the work introduces three new concepts firstly the rise of companies that handle privatized activities and the associated advent of post government companies that make such activities their core business control of them may reside with individual investors other companies or investment funds or it may reside with other states through state owned enterprises or sovereign wealth funds secondly imperfect privatizations when a state privatizes an activity to another state s public sector the book identifies cases where this is happening it also elaborates on how ownership and influence of companies that perform privatized functions may not be transparent and can pass to inherently hostile actors including criminal or terrorist organizations thirdly belligerent companies whose conduct is hostile to those of states where they are active the book concludes by assessing the adequacy of existing legal and regulatory regimes and how relevant norms may evolve
