Classic Movie Fight Scenes 2017-09-11 both brawls and elaborate martial arts have kept movie audiences on the edges of their seats since cinema began but the filming of fight scenes has changed significantly through the years mainly for the safety of the combatants from improvised scuffles in the silent era to exquisitely choreographed and edited sequences involving actors stuntmen and technical experts camera angles prevented many a broken nose examining more than 300 films from the spoilers 1914 to road house 1989 the author provides behind the scenes details on memorable melees starring such iconic tough guys as john wayne randolph scott robert mitchum lee marvin charles bronson clint eastwood bruce lee chuck norris and jackie chan

The Classic of Difficulties 1999 in the spring of 1989 shortly after my twenty seventh birthday as i stood in the sleet at a bus stop in colchester it dawned on me that i had probably all things considered failed in my mission to become sting at least for the time being lost in music is about growing up with pop music about hearing it buying it loving it and attempting to play it in public for money a brilliant combination of the confessional and the unapologetic this is a book for anyone who has ever treasured vinyl or sung into a roll on deodorant in front of the bedroom mirror and dreamed of playing wembley praise for lost in music very very funny giles smith is a wonderful writer nick hornby a wonderfully funny pop music memoir you don t have to know who nik kershaw is to laugh out loud at the chapter about him sebastian faulks spectator one of the best books about music that you will ever read it is impossible to read lost in music without laughing out loud daily telegraph

Lost in Music 2023-07-20 war wounds the soul it is not only the violence that warfighters suffer against them that harms but also the violence that they do these soul wounds have come to be known as moral injuries psychic traumas that occur from having done or condoned that which goes against deeply held moral principles it is not surprising that the committing of atrocities or the accidental killing of the innocent would hurt the soul of warfighters the problem is that many warfighters at least tacitly follow the commonplace belief that killing another human being is always wrong it s just that sometimes as in war it is necessary this paradoxical commitment makes the very business of warfighting morally injurious this problem is also a crisis clinical research among combat veterans has established a link between killing in combat and moral injury and between moral injury and suicide our warfighters even those who have served honorably and with the right intentions are dying by their own hands at devastating rates casualties not of the physical threats of war but of the moral ones

it does not have to be this way the just war tradition a moral framework for thinking about war that flows out of our greco roman and hebraic intellectual traditions is grounded in the basic truth that killing comes in different kinds while some kinds of killing like murder are always wrong there are other kinds of killing that are morally neutral such as unavoidable accidents and still other kinds that are morally permitted even sometimes obligatory the good kill embraces this tradition to argue for the morality of killing in justified wars marc livecche does not deny the morally bruising realities of combat but offers potential remedies to help our warfighters manage the bruising without becoming irreparably morally injured
