Country profile of the epidemiology and clinical management of early childhood caries, volume II 2023-06-29 bailey is largely forgotten today a victim of the recording industry's emphasis on the blues during the 1920s a decision which segregated forever black folk music from white folk music bailey was from an african american mountain culture that shared much of its musical heritage with its anglo saxon neighbors producing a unique hybrid which bailey called black hillbilly a virtuoso on the harmonica guitar and banjo bailey became one of the grand old opry's earliest stars during the 1920s only to be fired from the opry in 1941 during one of the opry's more repressive eras bailey's story is told mainly in his own words through interviews conducted by his longtime friend morton with wolfe english and folklore middle tennessee state univ providing cultural and historical background the authors stated goal was to write a book of universal appeal and indeed the work is a fascinating cultural history library journal

DeFord Bailey 1993 working from a cultural studies perspective author d k smith here examines a broad range of medieval and renaissance maps and literary texts to explore the effects of geography on tudor stuart cultural perceptions he argues that the literary representation of cartographically related material from the late fifteenth to the early seventeenth century demonstrates a new strain not just of geographical understanding but of cartographic manipulation which he terms the cartographic imagination rather than considering the effects of maps themselves on early modern epistemologies smith considers the effects of the activity of mapping the new techniques the new expectations of accuracy and precision which developed in the sixteenth century on the ways people thought and wrote looking at works by spenser marlowe raleigh and marvell among other authors he analyzes how the growing ability to represent physical space accurately brought with it not just a wealth of new maps but a new array of rhetorical techniques metaphors and associations which allowed the manipulation of texts and ideas in ways never before possible

Quality Matters in Early Childhood Education and Care: Korea 2012 2012-04-25 inefficient and uncompetitive enterprises especially from the over grown industrial sector these initial conditions meant that in the early stages of transition the volume of entries and exits will be by necessity very high reflecting the large scale changes that had to take place before these economies attain a macroeconomic structure consistent with their level of development and with the needs of a market based economy open to international competition one of the main elements of the reform programme in all economies in transition was the liberalisation of entry conditions along with the liberalisation of prices and foreign trade appropriate measures facilitating the establishment of new enterprises were approved in the very early phase of reforms in all of these countries the effectiveness of liberalised entry conditions of course depends on the presence of appropriate legal and institutional framework in which new firms will operate the establishment of a conducive legal and institutional environment however takes much longer in practice new firms come into existence before the rules of the game are properly established these rules develop gradually and are not always and everywhere consistent with the aim of liberalising the entry conditions the conditions facing new firms therefore have fluctuated in some countries in accordance with changes in the political environment and in line with the strength of different lobbies and interest groups

THE EARLY GRADE READING ASSESSMENT 2011-09-28 over the years educational scholars have proposed different conceptions of the curriculum it is as if each scholar researcher university educator and practitioner has developed her or his own personal definition unfortunately there is no one single definition that everybody has agreed upon table 1 presents a sample of these definitions a universal definition for curriculum may continue to be elusive and may even change through the years to address changes in the social forces and changes in related school goals nonetheless the approach in curriculum development is consistent curriculum developers establish goals develop experiences designate content and evaluate experiences and outcomes most curriculum developers consistently use such terms as curriculum planning curriculum development curriculum implementation and curriculum evaluation and many others to describe curriculum-related activities unfortunately without a consistent definition of curriculum it is difficult for the curriculum developers to identify what it is that needs to be planned developed implemented or evaluated if curriculum developers rely on the curriculum experts' definitions they will find that their definitions identify a product a program determine goals and objectives and learner experiences however its heterogeneity may be inspiring if curriculum developers rely on the components of each definition that depict the richness of the field which in turn can provide a foundation for contemporary content concepts and creativity a curriculum is an anthology of learning experiences conceived and arranged based on a program's educational goals and the community's social forces each curriculum manifests an image of what children ought to be and become biber 1984 p 303 grounded on the awareness of social values and a system that interprets those values into experiences for learners the concept of curriculum as a distinctive domain of study within education arose from the demand to arrange organize and translate such awareness into educational programs of study it integrates the historical study of the goals and content of schooling analyses of curriculum documents and analyses of the children's experiences in school the first formal curriculum text was published in 1918 bobbit 1918 although in the united states contemporary curriculum study goes back to the early 1890's when lead committees challenged the form and structure of public schooling presently curriculum development is fundamental at all educational levels
